GENEVA.—As to propaganda, the Russian government stands ready to agree that it will not itself engage in, or support, any such propaganda abroad, and that it will prevent all persons representing it or in its service from propagandizing. It can not undertake to speak for the Third Internationale, which is a world-wide organization, controlled by party delegates from 51 nations, in which the Russian party has only five of his government's policy to baptize his colleague Rathenau, a Jew. It is the policy of the International Communist party to conduct agitation in all nations. It is the policy of the Communist government in Russia to govern Russia communistically, and to leave it to other nations to do as they please.

If the propaganda of the Internationale is offensive to America, the Russian government has no objection to America passing any laws it wishes against it, and enforcing them against itself. But the Russian government sees no reason why it should undertake this responsibility, in America, for America, except that it will prevent its own representatives from propagandizing, and will not do so itself, nor support those who do. The party, the Internationale, and the government are as separate as the Vatican and the Bavarian government are, when the whole Bavarian government is Catholic. No one would think of asking Bavaria to order the Pope to call in his missionaries.

The fundamental fallacy of this argument is that it attempts, for Western consumption, to state a Russian position by Western analogies, in which it is completely meaningless. This disavowal of party and government has no resemblance to the practical situation, in Russia, and the statement of the disavowal in technical theory is mere salesmanship. However, this is not an attempt to support or refute the Russian argument, but to report it. The statement here given is the known official attitude of the Russian government, with which the Washington government is doubtless familiar.

RUSSIA is a government by the working classes. What few remnants survive of the other classes are disfranchised. The peasants, being all workers, vote by villages, except that if one of them hires any one to help him with his work, he loses his vote and pays a higher tax. All other workers vote by groups or occupations. One is a voter, not of his precinct or district but of his labor union. No property owner or former land owner, no employer of labor, no former member of the Czar's police, and no clergyman can vote. The whole system of indirect elections is too complicated to describe here.

Actually, the real power is the Communist party, membership in which is a valued and difficult privilege. There were only 200,000 Communists when they won the revolution and made themselves masters of Russia. The number rose to 700,000, fell by "purifications" to 600,000, and now about a million. One has to be recommended, pass an examination, be elected, and initiated to become a Communist, and then he can be removed at any time if he fails to show his right to remain. A common workman, being of the privileged class, may get in on the recommendation of two members of one year's standing, with an apprenticeship of a year, but an educated "intellectual" must be recommended by five members of five years' standing, and serve an apprenticeship of three years.

Membership in "the party" is the avenue to power and honor, but not to wealth. No party man can have, for himself, a total income of more than 225 rubles a month (about $115). Anything more must be contributed to the campaign for the party. This is the propaganda of Russia. So the famous men of Russia, the Bolshevik leaders who wield all its power, live in one-room apartments, on a workman's wages, under vows of permanent poverty, for themselves and their families.

THIS is the only organized political party tolerated in Russia, and no insurgency is tolerated. That there may be a "division" of rule and put Trotsky under the silence, reducing him at the same time to the chieftainship of a minor bureau. Trotsky submitted. In due time, Zinoviev himself became in the minority, and when the decision went against him he continued to agitate. Now his own rule is invoked against him, much more severely. He is out of part of his power now, and may be out of the rest before this is decided. The question what the split is all about is the most complicated thing in Russia. I will not worry readers with the effort to understand it. But the practical consequences of the fact may get into the news any minute.

Death List in Hurricane Placed at 375

HELP FLOWS TO CITIES IN STORM PATH

Rescue Crews Toil Amid Florida Wreckage For Bodies of More Victims

MARTIAL LAW LIFTED

Heavy Property Loss Is Reported at Pensacola; Fury of Wind Diminishes

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 21.—Tremendous damage has been done by the tropical hurricane at Pensacola, according to the first message reaching the world from that city for 30 hours. The message came to Louisville and Nashville railroad officials from C. E. Saltman, division superintendent at Pensacola.

(By United Press)

MIAMI, Florida, Sept. 21.—The casualty list of the Florida hurricane, as checked by Alfred P. Beck, chief of the United Press staff on the scene of the tragedy, with police heads of the devastated area, follows:

Miami, 103.
Hollywood, 80.
Miami Beach, 53.
Moorehaven, 40.
Hialeah region, 50.
Scattered dead, 50.
Total, 375.

While these totals will be changing constantly until a final check of the storm area has been made, and may reach 400 as a conservative estimate, officials declared today there was not the slightest chance that it would extend to the estimate of from 600 to 1500 previously circulated since the catastrophe.

Recovering From Storm

Miami, Miami Beach, Hollywood and their sister towns, recovered from the first shock of Saturday's hurricane, today were plunging into the task of relief and rehabilitation.

City officials and the Red Cross directed relief and cared for the 400 injured and for the dead. Rescue workers toiled amid the debris, searching for bodies.

With order again restored, approximately accurate estimate of the toll which the hurricane took in the magic land of Florida was becoming possible. The injured were numbered at 4000.

Property damage was said to be around $150,000,000.

Homeless Given Shelter

Passing of the storm and the confusion of the two days immediately thereafter saw thousands of the 50,000 people who were driven from their homes once more under shelter.

Bread lines were functioning at the Red Cross stations, where the hungry were fed.

Hospitals and emergency stations still worked without rest, caring for the injured.

The death list for Miami and vicinity was placed at 103 known dead today, while 15 of those in the hospitals were expected to die. It was estimated that 100 of the injured had lost limbs. The number in hospitals in Miami was placed at 1000.

The next hardest hit was Hollywood, where the death toll will reach 75 or 80.

Water Is Rationed

Authorities have rationed two gallons of water to each family and issue milk and ice only to families where there are infants to be cared for.

HELD IN MURDER

Albert Dewey Gaines, alias "Cowboy" Abe Dewey, brought back here yesterday from Great Falls, Mont., on a charge of murdering J. J. Patterson. Gaines is said to have confessed to his part in the crime.

CONFESSION IN CANYON DEATH MADE

Gaines, Brought to S. A. From Montana Bares Details of Ghastly Crime

'PRIEST' IS IMPLICATED

Patterson Case Statement Made by Cowboy After Trip Over Murder Scene

A SIGNED CONFESSION, purporting to tell virtually every detail of the murder of Joseph J. Patterson, Los Angeles bond broker, whose mutilated body was found in the Santa Ana canyon, on March 22, last, and which is said to strongly implicate the alleged American Catholic priest, Philip A. Goodwin, was made late yesterday by Albert Dewey Gaines, alias "Cowboy" Abe Dewey, who was returned here yesterday morning from Great Falls, Mont.

According to the district attorney's office, the confession made by Gaines implicates himself as well as Goodwin, and was given by the prisoner of his own free will.

Details Kept Secret

The confession, "on which the district attorney expects to convict Goodwin, are being held in the closest secrecy by the office and would not be released for publication at this time.

"There are still several little things to be cleared up, and until that time we do not want to expose our hand by allowing the newspapers to print the confession verbatim," District Attorney A. P. Nelson said today.

The confession was made before Sheriff Sam Jennigan, Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley and several deputy sheriffs, and has been duly signed and authorized by Gaines. It was said, Mozley has been in charge of the Patterson case from the start, and it was to Mozley and Sheriff Jennigan that Gaines opened his lips.

More Since Arrest

Ever since his arrest in Great Falls, Monday night of last week, by Sheriff Tom Norton, of that city, Gaines has been morose, according to Joe Ryan, deputy sheriff, who brought the man here from Montana. He was reported as being ready to talk when he arrived here yesterday morning.

Soon after arriving in Santa Ana, Gaines made it known that he had a dislike for Philip Goodwin and several hours later he dictated his confession.

Just prior to the confession, Gaines told Ed McClellan and two other deputy sheriffs to the spot in the Santa Ana canyon where Patterson's body was found and aided them in a search for a gasoline can, which was used to pour oil over the body of the man, in an attempt to burn and destroy all evidence of the crime.

Unable to Find Can

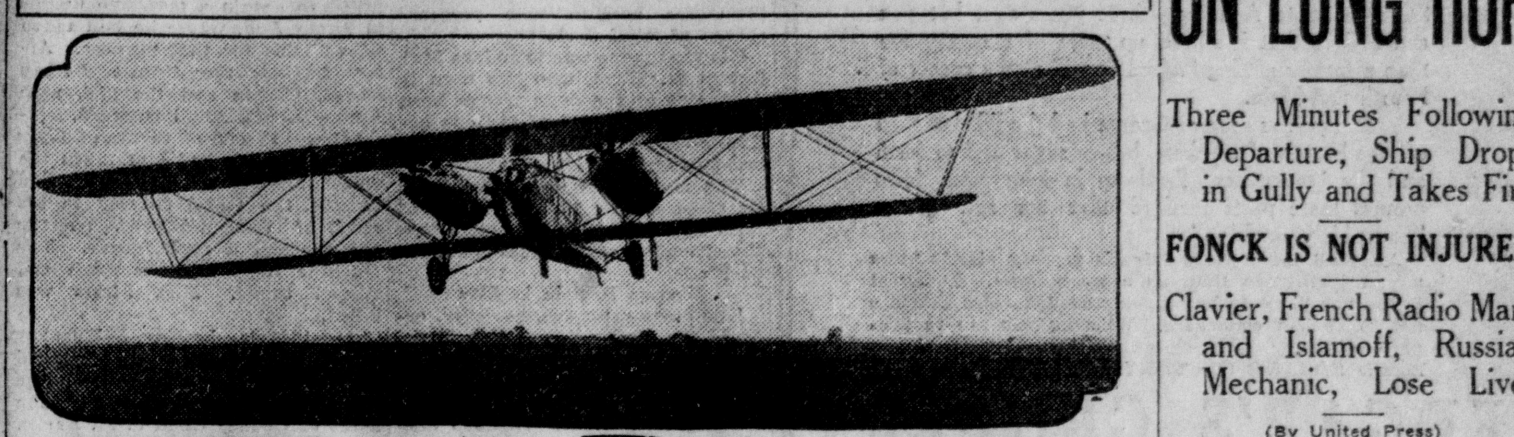

The can was not found, but Gaines ably described the place where he last saw it, and did not hesitate in taking the officers to the spot.

WOMAN JUROR QUIZZED ABOUT GROCERY SLIP

Mrs. Holmes Grilled on Phase of McPherson Case Mystery

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21.—Mrs. Edith Holmes, a member of the grand jury which was dismissed by court order after several weeks' investigation of the Almie McPherson case, was summoned to the district attorney's office today for questioning.

Mrs. Holmes was quizzed concerning the Carmel grocery slip, which disappeared during the probe. She was said to be the last person known to have had the paper in her possession.

The grocery slip, according to an official handwriting expert, bore notations which compared to the penmanship of Mrs. McPherson.

S. S. Hahn, Los Angeles attorney, issued another statement today, reiterating that he had negotiated with Kenneth G. Ormiston, through his friends, for a surrender in connection with the charges of conspiracy against Mrs. McPherson, Ormiston and others.

Hahn made the sensational allegation that his dicker with Ormiston was designed to reveal the truth of an asserted conspiracy among the principals in the McPherson case to extract $500,000 from Angelus temple followers for the return of the evangelist in a fake kidnapping plot.

"In my negotiations with Kenneth G. Ormiston's friends to get him immunity in exchange for the whole truth in connection with the Almie McPherson scandal, I have had no reference to the present felony charges against him," said Hahn.

"This case is air-tight. Immunity is offered for the truth of Ormiston's knowledge of the conspiracy to extract $500,000 from the followers of Angelus temple for the return of Almie McPherson in a fake kidnapping. Information has come to me from the former followers of the temple that such a conspiracy existed. For this information and

CRAFT FALLS AFTER START ON LONG HOP

Three Minutes Following Departure, Ship Drops in Gully and Takes Fire

FONCK IS NOT INJURED

Clavier, French Radio Man, and Isamoff, Russian Mechanic, Lose Lives

(By United Press)

ROOSEVELT FIELD, Westbury, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Rene Fonck's long heralded attempt to fly with three companions from New York to Paris started today amid the acclaim of a thousand persons, and three minutes later it ended, the plane in flames, and two of the crew dead.

Charles Clavier, of France, radio man, and James Isamoff, the Russian mechanic, were burned to death when the running gear of the plane gave way and it plunged into a gully.

Fonck and Lt. Lawrence W. Curtin, U. S. N., his second in command, miraculously escaped uninjured.

They were rushed away in an automobile to the home of F. R. Mayer.

Bodies Found in Ashes

The bodies of Clavier and Isamoff were found in the ruins of the plane, partly buried in the ashes of the cockpit. They were side by side—the flesh in places burned from the bones and the bodies almost unrecognizable.

Apparently the doors of the cockpit had jammed as the plane struck and the two men were trapped, forced to die an agonizing death.

The plane's rudder was smashed in the fall, the landing gear was broken and the wheels had plowed up yards of the flying field.

One wing had burned like tinder and in 20 minutes there was nothing left of it but the metal portions of the frame work.

Fonck announced last night that he would make his first start today, setting 5:30 a. m. as the time.

Start Soon After 6 a. m.

There was some delay in getting ready for the start, but soon after 6 a. m. Fonck and Curtin climbed into the plane, where they joined Clavier, who was at his radio set, and Isamoff, who, already, was in the plane giving the engines the final inspection.

Fonck took the controls, with Curtin beside him.

The engine was speeded up and the craft slowly moved away down the field, while a thousand people, gathered around, sent up a cheer.

In the plane, the men could be seen bending to their work. The engine was given more speed. But as the plane failed to answer, finally it lifted a little from the ground and settled back. Again it came up some four feet, but could not maintain it, and again dropped.

Craft Falls in Gully

The plane was off the ground four or five feet when there was a sudden, muffled explosion, not sufficiently violent to be recognized as anything serious by the crowd, until the plane careened at a giddy angle and fell into a gully which separates Roosevelt and Curtiss flying fields.

Just as it fell, spectators on the side of the field said, Curtin and Fonck were seen to be thrown from the plane. But there was no trace of Clavier and Isamoff.

Fonck and Curtin stopped enroute to the Mayer home at the Sikorsky shops near the field. Fonck said he attributed the accident to trouble with the auxiliary landing gear.

"I noticed the auxiliary landing gear had given way when we hit a bump," Fonck said. "The right wheel went in an oblique angle and I could feel that it had torn the left rudder loose.

Couldn't Get Into Air

"At first, I tried to slow up, but then I knew it was useless to do that because the gully was so close. So I opened her up again, hoping to get into the air. But I couldn't do it, and we smashed."

Fonck's statement indicated that the explosion probably came at the moment of the crash, rather than just before, as it appeared to spectators, who were three-quarters of a mile away.

Captain Fonck and Lieutenant Curtin went to the Mineola police headquarters and there made a formal statement to Coroner W. R. Jones, of Hempstead township.

They then were asked to appear Friday afternoon before the coroner for the inquest.

They have found nothing which would tend to show any blame attached," Jones said, after talking to Fonck and Curtin.

The bodies of Clavier and Isamoff.

RICHARDSON EXTENDS HIS FELICITATIONS TO YOUNG

(By United Press)

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 21.—Lt. Gov. C. C. Young, Republican nominee for governor of California, today was in receipt of a telegram from Gov. Friend W. Richardson, congratulating him on his successful race for the nomination.

The message said: "The tabulation of the official returns by the secretary of state was furnished to me late today and shows that you received the largest number of votes and are the nominee of the Republican party for governor. I congratulate you upon your success. I will be pleased to lay down the great burdens of this office when my term expires and turn it over to my successor with my best wishes."

DEMPSEY CHARGES KEARNS ONCE SERVED TERM IN PEN

(By United Press)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 21.—Jack Dempsey, answering the suit brought against him by Jack Kearns, his former manager, for an accounting, today filed an affidavit in court here charging:

That Kearns had misappropriated more than $500,000 of Dempsey's money.

That Kearns had once served a term in the penitentiary of the state of Washington.

The hearing was postponed for two weeks when Dempsey will appear personally.

The answering affidavit charges that Kearns appropriated to his own use more than $500,000 in small amounts during the time that he was Dempsey's manager.

Then he adds a charge that Dempsey learned Kearns had been confined to the Washington state penitentiary and that this fact "was so repellent" to Dempsey that he discharged Kearns, telling him the reason therefor.

Them WAS the Happy Days

There probably are a lot of us who don't remember when George Edgar opened up a "new" Grocery Store in Santa Ana forty-three years ago, but you can believe that it stirred up more of a commotion than a farmer getting "mired down" at the corner of Fourth and Main.

And just as soon as George had the lids knocked off the barrels of crackers, brown sugar and so forth and the "tomatoes" lined up in long rows, folks around these parts realized that the new grocer "knew his vegetables."

After all these years Edgar's grocery stands more as an institution than as a mere store. Today it is the one place to buy goods and delicacies that are not to be had elsewhere. Whether you are to prepare a simple meal or an elaborate banquet, you NEED EDGAR'S GROCERY SERVICE.

DEATH LIST IN HURRICANE IS PLACED AT 375

hours. One story is told of a policeman saving the life of an injured man by amputating his partially severed leg with a pocket knife.

Able-Bodied Men Drafted
In Hollywood, women and children were sent to other cities as rapidly as possible, while all able-bodied men were enlisted to clear away the wreckage and engage in relief work.

There the bodies of all members of a family of seven were found huddled together and crushed to death beneath a collapsed wall.

Fifty per cent of the homes in Hialeah were reported destroyed.

Martial law was lifted in storm-lashed Miami today.

Gov. John C. Martin arrived in the storm area to take personal charge of relief work.

His first move was to relieve Maj. Robert H. Ward, who has been in command of the state troops here, despite the protests of citizens active in restoring order in the devastated district.

The martial law edict was lifted by Governor Martin after he had been assured by city officials that the city government again functioned properly.

Troops Remain in City
The chief executive, however, ordered the troops to remain in the stricken city and give whatever aid they could to regular peace officers.

While hundreds of workmen toiled all night in the first concentrated move toward digging the city out of the ruins, electric lights were turned on for the first time since the storm broke on Saturday.

Water coursed through the mains, relieving the danger of contagion and pestilence from impurity.

Medical supplies and food stores continued to pour into Miami today, despite word yesterday that no more were needed.

Civic authorities told the United Press correspondent that Miami citizens were amply supplied with everything but money to be used in reconstructing their homes leveled by the 120-mile gale.

A two months' food supply was on hand today, but before it arrived H. M. Mangels, wholesale grocer, was named food dictator. Sales were restricted to one day's supply.

MARINES ARRIVE TO COPE WITH BANDITS
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Sept. 21—Marines from Key West have landed here to cope with bandits who taking advantage of the chaotic conditions following the hurricane, looted estates of wealthy winter residents.

The marines "have the situation well in hand," according to an announcement to the United Press today.

NO LIVES LOST AS GALE HITS MOBILE
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21—No lives were lost during the 80-mile gale at Mobile, Ala., yesterday, it was learned over an improvised wire to that city today. Advice said that property damage there was not great.

Despite every effort to establish wires to Pensacola, no word had been received at New Orleans from there since yesterday. New Orleans escaped with a 30-mile wind, which did no damage.

GALE TURNS TOWARD NORTH AND WEST
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—The fierce West Indian hurricane, after isolating Pensacola, Fla., is turning from a northward to a westward course along the gulf coast, the U. S. weather bureau said today, in ordering storm warnings displayed from Bay St. Louis, Miss., to Burwood, La., at the mouth of the Mississippi.

The storm's rage is diminishing and its movement has slowed down, although it is still accompanied by fierce winds, which may reach gale force, Chief Forecaster Charles Mitchell said.

Neither the navy nor the weather bureau had word from Pensacola.

Capt. W. R. McNeely, Key West, seventh naval district commandant, reported by radio that efforts to communicate with Pensacola had failed. Besides a naval radio station, one of the navy's largest aviation posts is located at the western Florida city.

GREAT DAMAGE AT PENSACOLA REPORTED
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 21—A single clipped wire was established today from Montgomery to Flomaton, a village on the Ala. bama-Florida border, about 44 miles from Pensacola, Fla. Advice from Flomaton said that, although great damage was done to Pensacola by the tropical hurricane, which swept westward from the Atlantic yesterday, the wind had subsided considerably this morning.

Communication was made to Flomaton by a combination of telegraph and railroad wires. They function so unsatisfactorily, however, that it was almost impossible to get details.

The telephone operator at Flomaton said that a number of buildings were destroyed and that several persons were known to be hurt. She had not been outside of her office for 24 hours, she said.

The wind reached a maximum velocity of 95 miles at Flomaton, she reported.

A traveling man named Jernigan, representing a Chicago firm, reached here today from Selma, Ala. He said that seven persons were killed by the storm at Jackson, Ala., about 50 miles from Selma.

Gov. W. W. Brandon today asked that planes be held in readiness in an effort to reach the stricken section. They will start to Mobile and Pensacola as soon as weather conditions permit.

JOINS SALES FORCE
John V. Cowden has joined the sales force at Spencer Collins' men's store. Cowden has been associated with the leading clothing store at Santa Paula for several years past.

FIANCE OF DEAD GIRL HELD TO ANSWER IN HEARING AT BEDSIDE OF SECOND VICTIM

Paul Clifton, 23, accused of manslaughter in connection with the death of his fiancée, Miss Melba Fields, 22, Los Angeles shop girl, near this city several weeks ago, today was held to answer on the charge.

The girl was killed when an automobile, said to have been driven by Clifton, overturned on West Fifth street, just outside the city.

Today's preliminary hearing of Clifton was held in the county hospital, at the bedside of another victim of the wreck, J. W. Kennedy.

Kennedy, owner of the car, charges that Clifton was driving when the wreck occurred. Clifton disputes Kennedy and declares that the latter was driving. At today's hearing, Kennedy's side of the story was the only one told. He was the sole witness used by the prosecution and Clifton offered no testimony in defense.

Clifton Is Blamed
Kennedy, who has been in the hospital since the accident, with both hips fractured, is quoted as stating that the accident was due to Clifton's fit of pique at having failed to obtain a marriage license in Santa Ana, where he had taken Miss Fields for that purpose.

After finding the license bureau closed, Clifton and the girl, with Kennedy, started homeward, intending to drive through Long Beach. Clifton had just taken the wheel, according to Kennedy, and twisted the wheel sharply in his mood of disappointment, as the car reached a short curve. The machine went into the ditch and turned turtle. Miss Fields was killed.

At today's hearing, Kennedy testified that he and the betrothed couple had found the courthouse closed and then had visited the home of County Clerk J. M. Backs, but did not find him. They then gave up the idea of getting a license and started home.

Says Clifton at Wheel
While driving along West Fifth street, Clifton took the wheel, said the witness. Shortly thereafter, said Kennedy, Clifton nearly drove into another car, head on. Kennedy saved them from the crash by seizing the wheel and straightening out the car, he said. Several blocks farther along, Clifton again seemed to lose control of the wheel and allowed the car to go into the ditch.

Justice Andrew Wilson ordered Clifton held for trial and fixed bail at $2000, which Clifton did not post.

Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wettlin conducted the prosecution. O. A. Jacobs represented Clifton.

CONFESSON MADE IN CANYON DEATH

spot in the canyon where the crime was committed.

He appeared to know where he was at all times, officers said, and had no difficulty in locating the exact spot where the body was found.

That contents of the confession will be of a startling nature and point the finger of accusation directly at the dapper little priest, was admitted by officials today.

Following the signing of the confession, Gaines was placed in the county jail, incommunicado, where he will be held while officers complete their case against him and Goodwin.

Goodwin was arrested in New York, on July 19, on a charge of murder in connection with the Patterson case, after almost four months of work had been done on the case. At the time, he was dressed in clerical robes and posed as a priest of the American Catholic church. He also was an actor, he said, and stated that he was in New York City for the purpose of producing a show, in order to earn money to build a temple in Los Angeles.

Goodwin was returned to Santa Ana by Orlo Moncrief, Orange county jailer, after two weeks of battling over extradition papers, and was arraigned in justice court. The case consumed an entire day.

Goodwin was held to answer to the superior court for the crime. He was not granted bail, and has been in the Orange county jail since that time.

In the meantime, a search throughout the middle west and western states was kept up by Sheriff Sam Jernigan for Albert Gaines. A warrant charging him with murder was issued at the same time the one for Goodwin was made out. It was not until last Monday that Sheriff Tom Norton, equipped with a circular from the local sheriff's office, arrested Gaines, in a spectacular way, just out of the city of Great Falls.

Gaines was working for the Great Northern railroad as a brakeman. Norton had been told that he was an ex-convict and probably a desperate man, so the sheriff, with several deputies, flagged the train, and with drawn revolvers, searched the train. Gaines was found. He made no fight. At the time of arrest, he was going under the name of W. P. Wilson.

The body of Patterson was found in the Santa Ana canyon, near the Riverside county line, by a Mexican, who was drawn to the body by the odor emanating therefrom. When he made the discovery, he immediately notified the sheriff's office.

The body was removed to a Pullman car, and remained for several days, unidentified, and finally was buried as that of an unidentified man, who has been murdered by unknown hands.

R. B. Patterson, Miami, Ariz., a brother of the murdered man, then started an investigation of his own. He came here, viewed a number of trinkets found on the body of the man, and positively identified the trinkets as the property of his brother. It was then learned that Patterson, the murdered man, had been living in a house in Los Angeles also occupied by Goodwin and Gaines.

The sheriff's office then learned that Patterson, Gaines and Goodwin were seen together on a certain day, said to have been February 13, and that this was the day that Patterson was last seen alive.

After learning this, together with the fact that a number of oil securities, known to have been the property of J. J. Patterson, were missing, and later that these same securities had been sold by a man supposed to have been Goodwin, Patterson came to Santa Ana, presented his evidence to District Attorney Nelson, and warrants for Gaines and Goodwin were issued. Within 24 hours of the time the warrant for Goodwin was issued, he was arrested in New York City.

Gaines was given his arraignment before Justice Andrew Wilson yesterday, soon after coming here from Montana. He was held without bail, and his preliminary examination set for October 11, at 11 a. m.

Goodwin's case is scheduled to come up before the superior court here, on October 18.

Goodwin does not know about the confession. He has not been told that Gaines has been brought here from Montana, although he was told that the man had been arrested and would be returned here.

Learning of the arrest, the alleged priest, and actor made a statement that he was glad that the "cowboy" had been taken, as it would clearly vindicate him.

When told of Goodwin's statement, Gaines laughed and said: "He's crazy. I can't vindicate him."

BOARD OVERRIDES VETO BY MAYOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21—After 10 hours of stormy discussion, the San Francisco board of supervisors, at 1:30 a. m. today, voted down the veto of Mayor James Rolph Jr. of the Modesto power contract.

The veto was 14 to 3. Fourteen votes were necessary to override the veto.

The contract is designed to furnish the Modesto irrigation district with steady-by power from the Hatch Hatch plant when the district's usual power sources prove inadequate.

BARBER JAILED ON CHARGE OF RAZOR ASSAULT

A. Fitzpatrick, 26, Buena Park barber, is booked at the county jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, following his arrest at 10:30 last night, by Deputy Sheriff Dan Adams and Harry Carter.

The man is alleged to have assaulted John H. Johnson, Buena Park, with a razor, according to a report filed with the sheriff's office.

An emergency call was sent to the sheriff's office and Adams and Carter answered. They reported finding a crowd gathered at the Buena Park hotel. They said that Fitzpatrick was in the rear of the hotel. Fitzpatrick is alleged to have run at the approach of the officers. Adams fired once into the air but failing to halt the man in that manner, ran him down, it was said.

Three razors are said to have been found on the man, following his arrest.

ACTION TO PREVENT GUN CLUB WATER WASTE IS RESUMED BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE

Resumption of legal warfare between the district attorney's office and the gun clubs, with the threat of an injunction, which might play havoc with the duck shooting season, now three weeks distant, had developed today with the announced prosecution of the Blue Wing Shooting club, Los Angeles organization.

Trial of the club and its president, A. E. Hurley, Los Angeles business man, under one of the complaints filed against a dozen gun clubs early this year, was set late yesterday in Santa Ana justice court for September 30.

Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wettlin, in charge of the prosecution, stated that the new action was taken against the gun clubs because the authorities have learned that the clubs again are allowing artesian water to flow unchecked on their leased lands along the shore district.

Wettlin stated that there had been an understanding that, following the recent conviction of the West Shore Gun club for alleged waste of water, the artesian wells would remain capped until the West Shore club case, now in superior court on appeal, was settled. In return, the district attorney's office would hold up action on prosecution of the remaining complaints.

Consternation Expected Since it appears that the gun clubs again have allowed water to flow, the district attorney's office decided, it says, to proceed immediately with other prosecutions. In addition, states Wettlin, he expects to apply for a temporary restraining order to stop the flow of the wells until the litigation is decided. If granted, this would interfere with gun club plans for the opening of the duck season, October 15, unless the prosecutions were completed before that date. The announcement is expected to cause consternation in gun club circles.

An element of strategy has entered into the skirmish between the county and the gun clubs, it is reported. According to the district attorney's office, the gun clubs have commenced the propagation of fish on their preserves, presumably for the purpose of earning exemption from the law against waste of water. The statute makes three exceptions to its own field of application, it is said, providing that no offense is committed by allowing artesian water to flow unchecked if such water is put to a beneficial use, or for irrigation, for domestic use, or for propagation of fish. The gun clubs now are said to be propagating fish.

Meeting this move with similar strategy, the district attorney's office, instead of filing new complaints when the wells were again uncapped, resorted to the old complaints, which cover the situation as it stood at the first of the year. At that time the propagation of fish was not under way and therefore cannot be used as a defense, the district attorney's office contends.

Demurrer Is Overruled In fixing the date of trial, late yesterday, Justice Andrew Wilson overruled a demurrer of the gun club attorneys, L. A. West and George P. Adams, who contended that the complaint was insufficient because its wording failed to negate the three exceptions designated in the statute. A new complaint, negating the exceptions has been filed.

The district attorney's office, besides charging that the flowing water has not been put to a beneficial use, added the further charge that, regardless of the question of beneficial use, the law has been violated by the unnecessary flow of water. The statute, it was held, makes "unnecessary flow" an offense as well as "waste" and provides no exceptions to the former. Waste is defined by the statute itself, in the section which outlines the exceptions that shall not be considered waste. But unnecessary flow, the prosecution argued, is a matter of fact to be presented to the court. The prosecution, it appeared, places much reliance upon its charge that the gun clubs have been allowing unnecessary flow of artesian water, regardless of the question of beneficial use.

The West Shore Gun club was tried several months ago under practically similar conditions of prosecution and defense and was convicted by a jury in justice court. Justice K. E. Morrison fined the club $300 and the case was appealed to superior court, where Judge Z. B. West now has the appeal under advisement. Meanwhile, it is said, the club has gone out of existence, having failed to renew its lease upon the Bixby lands, which it had occupied, near Seal Beach.

SAN DIEGO HIGH IN PRAISE FOR S. A. MUSICIANS

As an advertising medium for Santa Ana, the municipal band last week proved its worth when it appeared in a concert at the opening of the San Diego county fair, in San Diego, according to reports from the southern city.

The Santa Ana band was boosted, after the concert, as the best band to have appeared in San Diego since the 1915 exposition. At that time Sousa and his famous band appeared.

The San Diego Union had the following to say about the Santa Ana band, the day after the concert: "The outstanding feature of the night and one which gave, perhaps, the fullest measure of unalloyed pleasure, was the special concert of the Santa Ana municipal band, under the direction of Maestro D. C. Cianfoni, which came to San Diego as the gift of Santa Ana to San Diego and which offered the most exciting and the most finely executed program of concert band music heard in San Diego this year."

"The program ranged from grave to gay, and Director Cianfoni was lavish with his encores, which ran as high as two and three for each number on the program. Starting with Bachmann's 'Prelude in G Minor' it included every kind of concert band music and then gave a smashing example of what a good band can do with modern dance music. "The effects achieved by the band are unusual in those compositions in which strident effects may be given for. In Cianfoni's own composition, 'Echoes of the Cathedral,' the entire personnel of the band joined in singing a choir chant, which, with ringing chimes, brought round after round of applause from the audience. In 'Village Life,' another of Cianfoni's works, light and humorous effects of the crowing of roosters, the call of the fish man, the village dance—were achieved without detracting from the musical worth of the piece or sacrificing any of the real beauty of the theme."

The concert was generally conceded, by all who heard it, to have been perhaps the best band concert heard in San Diego since the days of the 1915 exposition."

JURY AGAIN FAILS TO REACH DECISION

For the second time, a jury yesterday failed to agree on the guilt or innocence of Edward Cripe, Talbert man, accused of a statutory offense.

At Cripe's first trial, last week, the jury stood 9 to 3 for conviction. It was reported. Yesterday, it was reported, the jury stood at the end of several hours' deliberation, the second jury found itself unable to agree. There were 10 in favor of acquittal, with two standing for conviction, it was rumored. Superior Judge H. G. Ames finally dismissed the jury and set October 18 as the date for a third trial.

It was intimated in official circles today that the case might be dismissed before the date of trial. Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Moxley handled the prosecution in both trials, with Attorney O. A. Jacobs appearing for the defense.

WORK STARTED ON NEW CHURCH IN SANTA ANA

Ground was broken yesterday for the new church of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, in Santa Ana, to be erected at Cypress and Bishop streets, where the tent meetings of the congregation have been conducted for several months.

The church, it is announced, purchased the property last week for $7500 and will erect a building costing between $4000 and $5000, but representing a considerably greater value because of the fact that it will be built largely by volunteer labor. The property has a frontage of 100 feet on Cypress street and 150 feet on Bishop street.

The building just started is situated to the rear of the property, facing Bishop street, and eventually will be used as a Sunday school building, the main church building to be constructed at such time in the future as growth of the congregation requires it. The building contemplated at present will have a seating capacity of 500. It will be completed within about 60 days, according to W. H. Dixon, chairman of the building committee.

Besides Chairman Dixon, the building committee includes R. H. Deatrick, J. A. Bramley, Miss Nita Buck and Mrs. B. S. Barton.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance, organized a few months ago, now is completely organized with a full set of officers, it is said. The Rev. C. D. Hicks is pastor of the congregation, having succeeded the Rev. Bert W. Bruffett and Mrs. Bruffett, the former Bessie Mae Randall.

TWO LOSE LIVES AS PLANE BURNS

off were taken to an undertaking parlor in Mineola.

"The plane accelerated slowly," said Lieutenant Curtin, who gave, in the technical language of the flyer, a statement of what had happened, "reaching a ground speed of about 60 miles an hour."

"The plane veered to the left, but it was possible to head it again on a straight course. At the end of the runway, the plane was still going about 60 miles an hour. When passing over the brink beyond which was the gully, Captain Fonck pulled back on the controls to effect a normal landing. At the same time, he throttled the motor."

"It seemed to me that the right wheel of the regular landing gear collapsed. The plane cart-wheeled on its right wing. The gas tanks apparently were shattered and gasoline poured down over the hot exhaust pipe."

"I have only commendation for the manner in which Fonck handled the ship. I am distressed at the death of our colleagues. I stand ready to undertake with Captain Fonck a similar flight in a Sikorsky plane."

Can't Explain Escape
Fonck couldn't explain how he and Curtin saved their lives. "I don't know why, but I could sense a catastrophe," he said. "We crawled out on the nose of the plane. The motors were still running and how we got off the plane and to the ground without being cut to pieces by the propellers is more than I know."

S. F. G. Barber, of New York, was the first man to reach Fonck and Curtin.

"I saw them getting up from the ground," he told the United Press. "As I ran up they were just on to their feet. Fonck was on one side of the plane and Curtin on the other. Both were unsteady, their eyes were glassy and they couldn't speak."

"I said, 'Are you hurt?' Curtin spoke first. He said, 'No, no—I'm not hurt.'"

"Pretty soon Fonck put his hand to his head, but he couldn't say anything."

"I said, 'Where are the others?'"

"I said, 'Unable to Answer'."

"They didn't seem to realize what I meant and couldn't say anything in answer to me."

"Then other people got here and we put them in an automobile and they left."

When the automobile passed the Sikorsky plant, where the plane was built, Igor Sikorsky, the Russian airplane builder, who had made the building of Fonck's plane the climax of his career as an airplane constructor, was sobbing pitifully. Curtin and Fonck had sufficiently recovered to offer him comfort.

The day had been ideal for the start.

2 ATTACHES HURT AS PLANE BURNS

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Two American embassy attaches were injured today when an antiquated U. S. army airplane, in which they were flying, experienced engine trouble, crashed in making a forced landing and burst into flames. They were Maj. C. L. Tinker, of Oklahoma, assistant military attaché, and Lt. Com. R. A. Burg, of Nebraska, assistant naval attaché. Burg suffered three broken ribs and was rather badly burned. Tinker escaped with injuries to his face.

But for Tinker, Burg probably would have been burned to death.

BLANCHE MEHAFFEY WILL BE GUEST OF JUNIOR CHAMBER

Miss Blanche Mehaffey, screen star, who will appear as a guest, Monday night at the meeting of the junior chamber of commerce, in the American Legion hall.

Pretty Little Star of Silver Sheet Will be on Program Here

The first of the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce de luxe programs, planned for the fall season, will be held Monday night, September 27, in the American Legion hall, starting at 8:30. It was announced today by President Mason Yould. Roy T. Crum will act as chairman of the entertainment committee.

Occupying a prominent "spot" on the evening's bill will be Miss Blanche Mehaffey, petite screen star, of Hollywood.

Reservations for the meeting may be made at the White Cross and Mateer drug stores.

Irish luck, combined with Irish blue eyes and a decidedly Celtic smile got Blanche Mehaffey in the movies when she never had dreamed of the idea of entering pictures. She was a member of the Ziegfeld Follies chorus, in New York, when a comedy producer came east and signed Will Rogers, then a Ziegfeld star, to make a series of two-reel pictures.

Rogers persuaded him that the chorus of his show was the most beautiful in New York and the producer promised to select one of the girls for picture work.

Didn't Expect Honor
Blanche had not the slightest idea that she would be chosen and gave the matter no thought. The night that the producer was introduced to the chorus, she did not enter seriously into the competition and, unlike the other girls, didn't dress up in order to attract the film magnate's attention.

Of course, Blanche's smile, her beautiful dresden-china coloring and her soft, blue eyes got her a contract and, a month later, she, with her mother and brother, were on a west-bound train.

When the comedy contract expired some time ago, she decided not to renew it and became a free-lance actress, with the hope of getting into dramatic feature parts.

Irish luck came to her aid again. Edward Sloman was looking for a typical Irish girl for the ingenue role in "His People," a recent Universal production, and, after he had met Blanche, no one else would do at all for the part.

Gets Another Contract
She backed up her good luck by giving such an excellent performance that Universal placed her under a longer-term contract and she is playing the lead opposite Jack Daugherty in Edward Sedgwick's "The Runaway Express." Universal officials are pleased with her work and are planning big things for her in the future.

Red, curly hair, big, warm blue eyes, a smile that would keep one warm on a cold day in Alaska and an incurable good nature are the high-lights of Blanche's personality.

Altogether she is a personality of her own on the screen. There is no one quite like her anywhere and all those who know her and have seen her at work before the camera predict greatness for her on the silver sheet.

$1150 PROVIDED TO AID BOULDER BILL

The county supervisors today appropriated $1150 for the campaign to secure passage of the Swing-Johnson bill at the next session of congress.

The amount, allotted as Orange county's quota of a fund being raised by the Boulder Dam association, was appropriated by the board after the matter had been presented by J. P. Baumgartner, editor of the Santa Ana Register, who is a member of the committee appointed by the Boulder Dam association at its meeting here, last Saturday, to handle the work of raising funds.

The Boulder Dam association launched a movement to raise $17,250 for the purpose of sending a delegation to Washington to work for the Swing-Johnson bill, and of financing other phases of the campaign to promote favorable consideration of the bill. The quotas allotted to various counties were: Los Angeles, $10,350; Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and San Diego, each $1150; Imperial, $2300.

Court Notes

County Files Suit

The county of Orange has filed eminent domain proceedings in superior court to condemn property needed for a right-of-way for Century boulevard, in the neighborhood of Garden Grove. Defendants in the action include Mr. and Mrs. Frank Launder, owners of one parcel wanted by the county, and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Dungan, owners of the other parcel. Century boulevard, the suit states, extends from the west limits of Santa Ana in a northwesterly direction to the county line. Deputy District Attorney Kenneth H. Burns prepared papers in the suit.

Desertion Is Charged

Desertion was charged by Mrs. Doris Rue in her suit for divorce, on file in superior court today against Albert E. Rue. The couple married in Los Angeles, in 1920, and separated in 1924. They have no children. Attorneys T. L. McFadden and George F. Holden, of Anaheim, represent the plaintiff.

Wife Asks Divorce

When Mrs. Frieda Jackson, of Fullerton, confronted her husband, R. Wesley Jackson, with letters supposed to have been written to him by other women, Jackson was ready with a retort.

"Your sister wrote those letters," he is said to have declared, intimating that there was a "frame-up" against him.

But Mrs. Jackson also claims that she found women's wearing apparel in her husband's car and suitcase.

The Jacksons separated September 13. They have twin daughters, 17 years old.

Attorneys Launer and Collins represent Mrs. Jackson.

Police News

Charged with disturbing the peace, William Levens, 617 North Parton street, yesterday was given a six months' suspended sentence when he was brought before Justice Andrew Wilson. Officer H. E. Holmes arrested Levens.

T. W. OGLESBY LOW BIDDER ON 2 PAVING JOBS

Bids on Victoria drive and Louise street paving were opened at the regular meeting last night, of the city board of trustees.

T. W. Oglesby company bid low on both projects. On items of paving and improving on Victoria drive, including installation of 15 King lighting standards, Oglesby bid $27,559.51, itemized as follows:

Five-inch pavement, 16.85 cents per square foot; curbs, 50 cents per lineal foot; sidewalks, 15 cents per square foot; sewer, 50 cents per lineal foot; lateral, 60 cents per lineal foot; manholes, $90 each; flush tanks, $120 each; water main, $1.65 per lineal foot; fire hydrants, $80 each; water service connections, $14 each, and 15 King lighting standards, $5000. E. W. Dollar, B. R. Ford, Griffith company and Wells-Bressler were other bidders.

On Ten Items
Louise street bids were made on 10 items and totaled $24,964.80. They were itemized as follows:

Paving, 15 1-2 cents; curbs, 44 cents; sidewalks, 14 cents; sewer, 65 cents; laterals, 44 cents; manholes, $65; flush tanks, $100; water main, $1.15; fire hydrants, $115; water service connections, $15.

Other bidders on the Louise street improvements were from Wells-Bressler, Griffith company and B. R. Ford.

Action in the matter of opening Sycamore street from Fifteenth street to Seventeenth street was placed in the hands of City Attorney Z. B. West Jr., following the presentation of a petition, signed by all but one of the property owners concerned, to the board of trustees.

The city attorney was instructed to secure a 100 per cent deed to the territory necessary to open the street.

Action now is pending regarding the opening of Sycamore street from Washington avenue to Fifteenth street.

George T. Bromley's application to establish a garage at 806 West Fourth street was referred to committee.

Haupt's service station, 1501 South Main street, was granted permission to install an additional gasoline tank of 550-gallon capacity.

Mrs. W. R. Du Bois protested the condition of the track crossing on Kilson drive. The matter was referred to the street superintendent, Nat Neff, who reported that railroad engineers would inspect the crossing.

Rubber-Covered Cable
Upon recommendation of W. O. Packard, city electrician, the trustees decided to proceed with the installation of rubber-covered cable in the fire alarm system from the fire hall to Main street, and from Main street north to Sixth street and south to First street. It is estimated that the cost will not exceed $500.

Upon presentation of a bill for Ana municipal band was granted $426 on a contract, the Santa Ana amount asked. Frank Purinton, president of the board, was elected to be in charge of the band.

Trustee George McPhee requested the city attorney to conduct an investigation into the destruction of light standards by autoists. According to McPhee, 18 standards have been broken within the last few months. According to Nat Neff, street superintendent, two standards have been paid for. Four suits are pending, with prospects that two of them will be settled satisfactorily within a short time, City Attorney West said.

So that the city might have a frontage on Fruit street, the proposition of the Santa Fe railway to deed a narrow strip of frontage in return for the cost of the street paving was ordered accepted. William Blakely deeded a narrow strip on Parton street, north of First street, to the city for street purposes.

L. A. FIELDER SETS NEW WORLD RECORD

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21.—Art Weis, flycatcher for the league-leading Angels, has broken the world's record for errorless fielding, having played through 136 consecutive games without committing a misplay.

Weis has handled 265 putouts and 11 assists in his record-breaking streak.

Joe Schroll, old time outfielder for Syracuse in the New York State league, played through 131 games, handling 155 putouts and 17 assists without a misplay when he made his record.

DES MOINES IS CHAMP

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 21.—Des Moines today had won the Western league title for the second consecutive year by winning the first game of a double header with Lincoln. They will play Springfield of the Three I league in a pot-season series.

Walk-Over Shoe

Take pleasure in announcing the appointment of Newcomb's as the Exclusive Selling Agency for Walk-Over Shoes In Santa Ana

Desiring to carry a line of men's shoes in Santa Ana, I have spent several months in a careful survey of the shoe manufacturing field. I was seeking a line of shoes with a world-wide reputation to maintain. I wanted a line known for its unquestionable quality, its exacting workmanship and its leadership in fashion. The Walk-Over shoe was the only line that fully embodied all these essentials, and still presented them at a reasonable price.

I take great pride and pleasure, therefore, in announcing that Walk-Over shoes now are, and will continue to be, the only line of men's shoes offered in this store.

Popular Girl Becomes Bride at Charming
Home Ceremony

TAKE place just at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening, September 18, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Galbreath, 210 South Lyon street, the marriage of Miss Della Genevieve Galbreath and George Russell Fisher of Orange, was a charming event attended by close relatives and friends of the young people.

Just preceding the ceremony, Miss Vera Galbreath, gowned in soft green georgette, sang a group of wedding songs, including "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" to the piano accompaniment of Miss Thelma Hoffman of Long Beach. Miss Hoffman wore orchid crepe heavily beaded.

She remained at the piano to render the Lohengrin Wedding March to which the bride party entered the room and took a position at an improvised altar banked with ferns, palms and garden flowers. Small Marvella Galbreath was an adorable flower maiden in crisp peach taffeta, and scattered rose petals in the path of the young bride, her sister.

Miss Calbreath wore a French creation of blue taffeta trimmed with peach. Her flowers were bride roses in shower effect; a silver bandeau confined her blond tresses and silver slippers and hosiery completed her costume in which were featured the "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue" of tradition.

She was attended by Miss Amy Smith attired in rose-orchid georgette and carrying a charming arrangement of pink roses and orchid sweet peas.

Mr. Fisher, assisted by his brother, Guy Fisher of Los Angeles, as best man, met his bride and together they took their wedding vows before the Rev. Will A. Betts, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. The quartet of young people formed a most attractive study in contrasts, for Miss Galbreath is quite as blonde as her honor maid, Miss Smith, is brunette, while Mr. Fisher has dark hair and eyes, in contrast to his brother and best man, Guy Fisher, is fair-haired and blue-eyed.

A reception hall followed the ceremony, with Mrs. Galbreath presiding as hostess, gowned in a pretty frock of platinum gray flared crepe. A two-course wedding supper was served by two pretty young girls, the Misses Colleen Hall and Helen Dallas. Centering a flower-strewn table, was a towering wedding cake which was cut by the bride to be served with the sweets course.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Fisher eluded their watchful friends, secured a car that had been awaiting them, and departed on a motor honeymoon which was to take them to San Francisco. The bride traveled in a becoming costume of black satin and a smart fall wrap with black wolf trimming.

Upon their return they will welcome their friends at their home, 507 North Olive street, Orange. Mr. Fisher is one of the rising young business men of the county and his bride is popular in a wide circle of friends. For the past year and a half she has been employed at the Orange County Title and Trust company of this city. A number of pleasant showers and parties given for her in the past few weeks, have attested the regard in which she is held by her friends.

Guests at the wedding who came from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Fisher of Fresno, parents of the groom.

Pretty Dinner Given
In Compliment to Newlyweds

MRS. AND Mrs. Claude Bolton, whose marriage on September 12 was of keen interest to their friends, were made honor guests at a delightful little dinner given last night by Mr. Bolton's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bolton at their home, 618 North Parton street.

White roses adorned the table where a delectable dinner menu was served. Covers were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bolton, the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Humphrey, Miss Wauneta Bolton, Miss Winona Humphrey and Messrs. O. W. Humphrey and Homer Humphrey.

Mrs. Bolton the bride, was Miss Mildred Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Orange avenue. The marriage of the young people took place in Riverside a week ago Sunday, in the First Baptist parsonage of that city. They were accompanied by Miss Thelma Wiede and John Heath of La Habra.

Mr. Bolton has made his home for the past ten years with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bolton. He is a graduate of Santa Ana high school and is now with the Standard Oil company. He and his bride are welcoming their friends to their pleasant apartment in Morrison Court at Fifth and Parton street.

Charming American Girl
Quietly Wedded in Paris

MISS ADA MAY SHARPLESS, DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. B. H. SHARPLESS OF NEWPORT ROAD, WHO WAS MARRIED IN PARIS ON THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, TO JEAN LILLENFIELD OF PARIS AND RUMANIA AND WHO WILL CONTINUE HER ART STUDIES IN PROMINENT ATELIER OF FRANCE.

While a few close friends of Miss Ada May Sharpless, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Sharpless of Newport Road, were aware that her art studies in Europe were to the accompaniment of romance, to many others, the announcement of her recent marriage to Mr. Jean Lillienfeld of Paris and Rumania, will come as a distinct surprise.

But engraved announcements, arriving in Santa Ana, revealed the news generally, and friends were eagerly awaiting details of the quiet wedding of Thursday, September 2, just two days prior to the sailing of the bride's mother and sister, Mrs. B. H. Sharpless and Miss Claire Sharpless, who had been spending the summer in France.

Miss Ada May Sharpless was recognized as one of the most talented young women in the community, and her sculptures were winning her the admiration of critics. She is a member of the California Art club and the Laguna Beach Art association. She left over a year ago to continue her studies in the ateliers of Paris, and readers of the Register will remember that some of her interesting European experiences were detailed in these columns in a series of letters. But the most interesting experience of all, her friendship with Mr. Lillienfeld, her betrothal and marriage plans were related only to her family.

Quiet Ceremony
When Mrs. Sharpless and Miss Claire left for Paris, it was to meet the fiancé of their daughter and sister, and assist her in assembling her trousseau and perfecting plans for the marriage. This was the usual civil ceremony of France and was attended by only the relatives and a few friends.

Miss Sharpless was costumed in an ensemble of coral velvet, heavily embroidered and with hat to correspond, a costume most becoming to her beauty. Immediately after the ceremony, the wedding party went to St. Germaine, an unusually beautiful summer resort near Paris, where the wedding dinner was served in a dining room overlooking the valley of the Seine. The guests returned to Paris leaving Mr. and Mrs. Lillienfeld at St. Germaine to enjoy their honeymoon.

The happy young people will reside in Paris, and are having a delightful studio remodeled in the Latin quarter where Mrs. Lillienfeld will continue her art studies.

Dinner Honoree on Her Birthday

Mrs. Albertina Greenwald, mother of Mrs. Rohrs, was complimented. Close relatives were bidden to the birthday feast and surrounded a long table, adorned with brightly tinted flowers, where place of honor was given Mrs. Greenwald. A delicious dinner was served after the honoree had touched all hearts with the beautiful and impressive blessing which she asked on the food to be served. The dessert course included a decorated birthday cake which bore the numerals "81."

The only thing to mar the pleasure of the evening was the absence of one son of the honoree, Herbert Greenwald, who was ill and unable to be present. Mr. and Mrs. Rohrs, the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greenwald and Mrs. Herbert Greenwald, represented the children: Miss Albertina Greenwald, Mrs. Claude Turnbow, Miss Ruth Greenwald, Master Darrell Greenwald, the Misses Eleanor and Lois Rohrs, Russell and Marvin Rohrs, were the grandchildren, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Davis were other relatives (Mrs. Davis a niece of Mrs. Greenwald sr.) who enjoyed the happy gathering. Mrs. Albertina Greenwald is one of the pioneers of Orange county and has resided here for the past 43 years. Hosts of friends joined her relatives in wishing her many more happy birthdays.

Vanishing Luncheons
Continue in Their Popularity

Continuing the series of "vanishing luncheons" which Ebells members are enjoying so keenly and which are enriching the coffers of the society in an amazing manner, Mrs. Leonard G. Swales was hostess yesterday to a group of eight friends at the delightful Swales home, 2115 North Broadway.

The famous gardens surrounding the home, were rife with their richest blooms for adorning the tables where luncheon was served, and to brighten the background for the card players of the afternoon. For bridge was introduced following luncheon, and offered pleasant diversion to all, and attractive prizes to Mrs. Charles Kendall and Mrs. W. H. Haddon, scoring high and second high, respectively.

Music, too, played an important part in the entertainment, for Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, Mrs. M. A. Clarkson of Kansas and Miss Mignonne Swales each added a song group to the program. Miss Swales playing the accompaniments for Mrs. Slabaugh and Mrs. Clarkson accompanying her own songs. Miss Swales sang "D'Hardelot's" "Because," Mrs. Slabaugh's choice was "Neapolitan Night" and Mrs. Clarkson sang a charming cradle song, "Dear Little Baby of Mine."

Sharing the hospitality of Mrs. Swales were Mrs. John Clarkson, her sister-in-law and house-guest of Wichita, Kansas, Mrs. M. A. Clarkson; Mrs. W. H. Haddon, Mrs. L. W. Gillett, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, Mrs. Charles Heil, Mrs. Charles Kendall and Mrs. John P. Baumgartner.

Busy Year Reported
For Day Nursery

A remarkable year's work was disclosed at the recent meeting of Ebells' day nursery committee at the home of its chairman, Mrs. T. D. Knights, 428 Fruit street. For reports of the secretary, Mrs. E. B. Sprague, and treasurer, Mrs. L. M. Forcey, disclosed that 112 families were represented in the good work done during the last year, while 2340 boys and 2092 girls, were received at the nursery.

Mrs. Knights, Mrs. Walter Vandermast, Mrs. E. A. Noe, Mrs. Harry Spencer, Mrs. L. M. Forcey, Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Mrs. J. H. Cloyes, Mrs. J. Edmund Snow and Mrs. J. William Taylor Jr., comprise the committee and every member was present at the meeting, together with Mrs. W. E. Winslow, retiring member.

Among plans discussed for future development, was that of presenting a series of three cooked food sales at the D. L. Anderson grocery, 115 East Fourth street, with three members in charge of each one. The first will be given Saturday, September 25, with others to follow on October 2 and 9.

Also the committee will hold a benefit party at the Ebells clubhouse early in November after the fall flower show. Mrs. Walter Vandermast was named as chairman of the committee on arrangements and will be assisted by Mrs. J. H. Cloyes and Mrs. J. William Taylor Jr.

G. G. C. Class Holds
Friendly Meeting

French marigolds and zinnias on small tables grouped in the social room of the United Brethren church, made it a pleasant spot in which the G. G. C. class members met recently for their September social evening. A successful "get-acquainted" game was introduced by the social committee after which a short business session was presided over by H. A. Colby.

Names of Bible characters had been printed on slips of paper and one was attached to the back of each guest. By a series of amusing questions and answers, identities were established, and partners for the supper hour were thus chosen. Solomon had more than one "wife" for whom he sought refreshments, while Timothy had both his mother and grandmother.

Mrs. O. M. Harrison and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Herbert Harrison, as hostesses for the evening, served their guests chicken sandwiches, fruit salad, lady-fingers and coffee.

Thirty-two were present to enjoy the pleasant event, including the Rev. Logan Harter and Mrs. Harter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Colby, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Deany, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hervey, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gammell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Imm. Mesdames Chester Clark, C. H. Harrison and Burgess.

"My Foot's Asleep"

Nearly all of us have had the sensation that is commonly expressed above. But the foot is not asleep. The nerve that led to the foot was pressed wrong too long. That affected the foot. Now figure the nerve leading to your stomach, in the same shape—and "your stomach's asleep."

The nerve must function properly or the organ will not.

FOUR HELD ON ARSON CHARGES IN SANTA ROSA

On the strength of a confession made in the Orange county jail here, several days ago, by William J. Cottrell, who admitted that he played a part in setting fire to a house in Santa Rosa, three other persons have been arrested on arson charges in the northern city, according to information received here today.

The three persons are E. W. Rutherford, prominent mill operator, of Sebastopol; his divorced wife, Mrs. Mary Lee Rutherford, and her mother, Mrs. Claude Davis Hardy.

Cottrell has been taken to Santa Rosa to face the charge. He was serving a sentence of 30 days in the county jail here on a charge of petit larceny, in connection with the theft of a set of trap drums, and made the confession to investigators from Santa Rosa county.

A parole was granted Cottrell here so that he could be returned to Santa Rosa for trial on the more serious charge.

According to a story received from Santa Rosa, the house destroyed by fire was owned by Mrs. Rutherford. Cottrell is said to have admitted that he aided her in pouring kerosene about the interior. Mrs. Rutherford is alleged to have collected the insurance on the house.

WARREN D. LAMPOR IN ROLLINS OFFICE

Announcement has been made by E. H. Rollins & Sons, nationally known investment house, that Warren D. Lampor is henceforth to represent them in Santa Ana.

CHURCH DRIVE IS PLANNED BY S. A. MINISTERS

Plans for launching a unified evangelistic campaign during the coming winter months, having for a purpose the arousal of public interest in religion and church activities, were discussed at the annual meeting yesterday, at the Y. M. C. A., of the Santa Ana Ministerial association.

Another matter taken up for discussion was observance of "Father and Son week," scheduled for next November, in which connection the executive officers of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. were asked to work out the details of a suitable program. It was suggested that the program should include a mammoth barbecue dinner, in Orange County park. Invitations to this affair would extend to the fathers and sons affiliated with the various churches in this and neighboring cities.

The Rev. W. H. McPeak, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, and Ralph C. Smalley, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., were appointed a special committee to draft resolutions of thanks to the Rev. William E. Roberts, of the First Presbyterian church, and the Rev. Will A. Betts, of the First M. E. church, who are leaving the community for new assignments.

In this connection, the Rev. Henry C. Burgess, retiring president, took occasion to praise the services rendered the association by the departing colleagues.

The meeting was brought to a close with the election of officers for the ensuing year.

LAWYER RETURNS FROM TRIP EAST

After traveling through 33 states and the District of Columbia, George Varnum, Anaheim attorney, has returned to his offices in the Yungbluth building, Anaheim, having informed several thousand people, with whom he came in contact on his travels, that Orange county has a climate that would put the Garden of Eden to shame.

After attending the convention of the American Bar association in Denver, Varnum visited his alma mater, the University of Iowa, in Iowa City. He also visited the Sesqui-centennial exposition, in Philadelphia, and several eastern cities. He returned by New York and New Orleans, stopping off to attend the convention of the California Bar association, in Yosemite National park.

In Carson City, Nev., Varnum was admitted to the bar of that state, renewing his acquaintanceship with Chief Justice Benjamin W. Coleman, of the Nevada supreme court, whom Varnum had not seen for 30 years.

Varnum stated on his return that it was a source of great pleasure to him to find his Santa Ana Register waiting for him in every city in which he stopped. He ordered the paper resumed at his office in Anaheim.

MARRIAGE JOURNEY IS UNSUCCESSFUL

George Torres, 23, and Evelyn Rubidoux, 15, came to Santa Ana yesterday from Riverside for the purpose of marrying.

It took them from Saturday night until Monday to get here, however, and this gave Evelyn's father time to find out that she had left home, so he asked authorities here to interfere.

When the couple applied for a marriage license, it was refused, and, instead of walking into the sea of matrimony, the two were ushered into the sheriff's office, where they were held until returned to San Diego late yesterday.

CONDITIONS IN GERMANY BAD: SAYS S. A. MAN

In Germany, little children neither laugh, sing nor play, according to Adolph Butz, of 1130 Orange avenue, who, with Mrs. Butz, has just returned from a trip to Germany, where he has many relatives.

"Nothing is done in Germany except work," Butz said. "For, where an average wage is 85 cents a day and prices are the same as they are in the United States, it is necessary to spend a great deal of time working in order to support one's family."

"All the earnings of the German people are spent in buying food, of which there is very little. Meat is almost unknown, except for a tiny bit on Sundays, for which a housewife must save and stint for all of the preceding week in order to afford it."

Wear Pre-War Clothes
"Clothes worn by these people, many of whom were well-to-do farmer folk before the war, are garments they purchased before the World war. Doctors, even with large practices, are unable to collect even a small percentage of what is owed them, and as a consequence, they can easily be mistaken for beggars."

"There are no horses left in Germany for the farmers, and the few cows serve as horses," Butz said, comparing these formerly well-to-do people with the peons of Mexico.

"There are thousands of people who have no work and are unable to procure any employment. It is a marvel that these unemployed people can exist. Factories are unable to operate because of the high taxes. Many of them could not be operated anyhow, because the machinery has been destroyed by the soldiers stationed in Germany by other nations.

Few Wealthy Persons

"There are a few people in Germany who are still wealthy, but these are the people who had their money invested in American enterprises. Those who had large investments in other European countries had their entire holdings confiscated during the war."

Butz continued that many Americans came to Germany and spent some time there and went home telling of the prosperous condition existing in that country.

"The average tourist does not see beneath the surface," Butz said. "He never goes where such conditions exist and if he did probably would not believe that the conditions he saw existed throughout Germany."

"I had planned to stay six weeks or longer, but after three weeks I had to leave. Conditions were so unhappy, so much worse than I had imagined them, that I was glad to leave."

On their return to the United States, Mr. and Mrs. Butz spent some time in the east and at points enroute to Santa Ana. Mr. Butz expressed himself as displeased with what he saw in this country, as he said that Washington's so-called beautiful buildings had lost their beauty because of the amount of coal dust on them. He also said that roads, through the middle west were similar to a gigantic washboard, because of numerous bumps.

The SPARK Baffle-plate that supplies air to the rear burners and insures perfect ventilation and combustion, is an exclusive, patented SPARK feature. No other stove can legally use this highly important factor in LID-TOP construction.

No. 4016.—May be had in regular finish, black and white, semi-enamel or full enamel. Lined throughout with genuine Toncan metal, guaranteed rust-proof. "Even Heat" oven accommodates 16-lb. turkey. Mirror-finish LID-TOP, roomy broiler and special compartment for warming dishes. Battleship steel construction with concealed bolts and hinges.

Unless you have actually seen the SPARK LID-TOP gas stove in operation you can hardly realize what a tremendous advance it represents over the old-fashioned type of gas stove.

Here is a stove that enables you to cook an entire meal with only one burner lighted. Or, with one burner turned very low, to keep food piping hot for hours without scorching.

Also, the LID-TOP means no more clogged burners, no more blackened pots and pans, no more soiled walls and ceilings.

For the woman who does much baking the famous SPARK "Even Heat" oven is a real joy. It insures perfect baking under any conditions.

Battleship steel construction and lined throughout with genuine Toncan metal, guaranteed rust-proof.

JANITORS LIKE COMPANIONSHIP

IN HIGH SCHOOL

Association With Youth Is Means of Staying Young,
Declares Frank Feighner

MAN AND WIFE ARE LIKED BY STUDENTS

Couple Rallies to Defense of Rising Generation and Says It Is Sensible One

Most of the students at the Santa Ana polytechnic high school are known to Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Feighner, janitor, but it is only acquaintance of faces and not of names for the most part.

A striking thing is that the boys are most readily remembered, while the girls, after graduating from school, seem to vanish from mind's view. During the 17 years that Mr. and Mrs. Feighner have been connected with the city schools, they have seen prominent Santa Ana men grow up from kindergarten age.

But most of those they remember are among their "boys."

In the stead of anything better to call them, the students are known to Mr. and Mrs. Feighner simply as "our boys" or "one of our girls."

Keeps Them Young
Dally the two meet the hundreds of students at the high school and they say that the association keeps them young. And modern youth is not such a bad lot, they believe. The every day contact with the students places them in a position to judge whether boys and girls of today are any worse than those of years ago.

Once in a while, Feighner said, he sees some boy holding the hands of a girl in the halls.

Many fads of dress have been introduced among the students in the years that Feighner has been working in the city schools. Back in 1909, in the Central school, later renamed the Washington school, and razed to make room for the Y. M. C. A., the girls wore long dresses and long tresses, he recalls, as from an ancient past.

"Students today are more sensible in deciding their dress," Feighner said. "Their moral standards are higher because they know life."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Feighner rally to the defense of the boys and girls in the Santa Ana high school.

A marked degree of friendship exists between the students and Feighner. Whenever Feighner wants one of the boys to help him, he finds willing aid. There's a "hello" greeting from all whenever they meet in the halls or on the street. Mr. and Mrs. Feighner enjoy their work for that reason.

Have Many Tokens
Their "boys and girls," whose names they know, are kept track of by reading about them and even by hearing from them. Tokens have been sent to the Feighners from all over the country and from foreign lands by the students they formerly knew in Santa Ana high school.

Almost a paternal interest is taken in some of the people of Santa Ana whom they knew in "the grades." Among these, Feighner called to mind Coyle Briggs, Donald Stephenson, Bert West, Franklin West, Bill White, George Lamme, Bill Cole, William Brandebury, Martin Warren, Gasper Osborne, Roy Osborne, Hugh Osborne, Stella Niserson, Louise Grubb, Fred Forgy, Joe Irvine, Eugene Trago, Raymond Adkinson, Bruce Wallace, Marvin Mor-

"MISS PONCA" NEW ENTRANT FOR "QUEEN OF AIR" HONORS

Miss Ruth Stich, winner of the "Miss Ponca" Oklahoma, beauty contest, who is entered in the Santa Ana Air club's contest to decide "the queen of the air."

OH, PITY POOR INFORMATION
GIRLS! THEY ARE EXPECTED
EVEN TO KNOW YOUR ICE MAN

Pity the information girls at the telephone office! Last week a housewife called in and explained that she was ordering ice for her neighbor and would the information girl please tell her the name of the ice company with which her neighbor traded. She did so and to get just the right sort of ice, you know.

A business man notified the information desk that he could not attend a funeral, but that he did want to send flowers. Would it be all right for him to send the flowers the day of the funeral, or should he wait until after the funeral, when he could personally express his grief.

Oh, yes, pity the information girls at the telephone office, who, according to Miss Winifred Faris, chief operator, certainly have no easy task.

Mild in Swearing
Miss Faris, in reply to a question, revealed that Santa Anans, as a rule, are very mild in their swearing. That is to say, such swearing as is done is carried out in a very gentle manner, with an entire cessation after a sweet-voiced rebuke. However, there is a man in Anaheim who swore so consistently and so effectively that his telephone was permanently dismembered, she revealed.

When a subscriber is suspected of too much profanity, two or three girls are assigned to listen-in on his line, Miss Faris said, and their joint affidavits are presented to the manager.

The system inaugurated in Santa Ana, of eliminating the repetition of the number on the part of the operator, when a call is made, has proved so successful that it has been adopted in all Orange county offices, with the probable result that it soon will spread all over

INTEREST IN CITY IS KEEN
AS TIME FOR CLOSING HOUR
IN VOTE RACE APPROACHES

With the "Queen of the Air" contest, sponsored by the Santa Ana Air club, scheduled to be closed at midnight, Thursday, the contestants today were lining up their strongest trump cards to play in the game of rolling up votes, according to Com. B. E. Morthland, of the Air club. The winner of the contest will ride in the pathfinder ship over the course to be followed by the planes participating in the second annual World Flight Commemoration meet, to be held next Sunday.

The latest entrant into the contest is Miss Ruth Stich, 18 years old, sponsored by the Air club. Miss Stich, who came to Santa Ana recently from Ponca City, Okla., completed her high school education in 1925 and then proceeded to win the "Miss Ponca" beauty contest. She wears a decidedly boyish bob.

The members of the junior chamber of commerce are said to be waging a quiet campaign in behalf of Miss Helen Hull and the results of the vote-selling efforts are expected to be reflected in the standings tomorrow. Miss Martha Kelsey, of Garden Grove, also has strong support, the Orange county American Legion having promised her the benefit of the organization's ticket-selling efforts.

SPANISH FIESTA TO BE HELD BY WHITE SHRINE

A Spanish fiesta, typical of early California days, will be held at the C. L. McComber ranch home, North Main station, next Thursday, September 23.

While the fiesta is being sponsored by the Fullerton White Shrine, the membership is extending the invitation to all Masonic affiliations and friends in the Southland.

The beautiful ranch home, of Spanish type, together with the colorful costumes and appropriate decorations, will present an attractive setting for the affair.

The program committee, of which Mrs. Francis T. Isbell is chairman, has planned one of the finest Spanish programs ever presented in the county. Among the professional artists who have been procured from Los Angeles for the occasion are Mrs. Brandon, well known singer of KEE, Paulo and Paquita, state renowned Spanish dancers; Francisca, Spanish singer; the Jose Arias Spanish entertainers, and Dickie Brandon, film star, while Mrs. Michael, manager of radio broadcasting for the California Federated clubs, has arranged for four well known radio artists to add to the program.

Miss Pauline Sweet, talented Fullerton dancer, will give a Spanish costume dance, while Miss Dorothy Winters and Jackie, Series will give whistling and reading numbers.

To follow the program, dancing and cards have been arranged, while numerous booths, decorated in Spanish and early California trimmings, will offer refreshments. Stella Star, noted Southern California psychologist and fortune teller, will help entertain the guests.

Every effort is being made to make the fiesta the season's greatest success and nothing is being left undone to make it a pleasant evening for those attending.

The McComber ranch is located on Telegraph road, about two miles north of Buena Park and ample signs and lights will be placed at the driveway entrance to direct motorists.

GOOD PRODUCER IS EXPECTED IN BRISTOL WELL

Location Heretofore Unexplored But Large Supply of Water is Anticipated

Awaited with more than ordinary interest on the part of city officials, as well as citizens interested in water conservation, are results to be obtained from the sinking of a new water well on the east side of North Bristol street, about 100 feet south of Santiago creek, inquiries at the city hall revealed this morning.

The location of this well is in a heretofore unexplored territory, which, from all indications, points to a good underground water supply, hence the interest attached to the present undertaking. Another factor which enters into consideration, Walter Wray, water superintendent observed, is the drop in the water levels, which is a source of much concern.

The contract for the drilling of the Santiago creek well calls for a minimum depth of 500 feet, which depth may be extended if found advisable, it was stated by the water superintendent.

Expect Good Producer

According to Wray, it is expected that the new well will prove a good producer, developing 250 inches, or 2250 gallons per minute. If these predictions are borne out by results, steps will be taken to sink additional wells in this territory as soon as funds are available, it was added.

At present the city is depending upon nine wells for its water supply, pumping 8000 gallons per minute. Because of lowering levels, it has been necessary to abandon several wells and some of those now in operation are beginning to show signs of exhausted supply, Wray declared.

Further evidence concerning the advisability of conserving water, as well as to secure new sources of supply, is furnished in the following figures, released by the water superintendent, bearing on water levels of the various wells from August, 1925, to August, 1926:

Sinking of water level in feet: Well No. 3, 1.2; No. 4, 3.6; No. 5, 9.0; No. 6, 11.5; No. 7, 2.0; No. 8, 3.0; No. 11, 9.0; No. 12, 10.5; No. 13, 25.9.

Loss of 25.9 Feet
No. 13 well was put on the pump in March, 1926, showing a loss of 25.9 feet in less than five months, it was explained.

Since 1922, statistics show the average drop has been from 20 to 30 feet. This lowering of water levels, Wray averred, has been due not only to heavy pumping but also due to the fact that there has been very little water fed into the underground gravel strata.

SOCIAL EVENTS FOR BOYS ARE PLANNED

Two social events for boys are scheduled at the Y. M. C. A. for this week, beginning the first of the fall season, according to T. P. McKee, boys' work secretary.

Friday evening, the older boys will have a program of entertainment, which will include musical numbers, two reels of motion pictures, and one or two short talks on subjects of interest to the boys in connection with their Y. M. C. A. work.

Younger boys, from 10 to 15 years of age, will have a similar program on Saturday evening, when they will enjoy the pictures and other entertainment features.

It is the plan of the boys' department to have frequent social gatherings of its members during the year, in addition to the full program of gymnasium and club activities being carried on.

Membership in the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. now is at the highest point it has reached in more than two years past, and the attendance of the boys is the largest on record. All classes for boys in the gymnasium and swimming pool are well attended, and in some of them only a few more members can be accepted.

PLAN INSECTARY
PLANT ADDITIONS

Additions to the Insectary plant, operated by the Orange County Pest Control association and various citrus associations at Anaheim have been started, it was announced today. Improvements costing approximately $10,000 will be made at the plant, including the construction of four new houses for the propagation of cryptolimus, enemies of the mealy-bug.

W. H. Dixon, Santa Ana contractor, holds the contract for the new additions.

The cost of the improvements, it is said, is about equally divided between the new houses and the heating system. A rather elaborate heating system, it is said, forms one of the requisites of the boudoir of the temperamental lady bug, cryptolimus.

Rich 'Nun'

Eleanor Patterson, daughter of Joseph Medill Patterson, Chicago newspaper publisher, has been dubbed "the millionaire nun" by German theater goers, for whom she is playing the Madonna in "The Miracle." Miss Patterson arrived at Salzburg with two limousines, 34 trunks and a train of servants, and took an eight-room suite at the hotel.

'PUNCH CLOCK' IS ORDER GIVEN
TRAFFIC POLICE

State traffic officers will have to punch the clock just like any other working person who puts in eight hours a day, according to a new arrangement, made by Capt. Henry C. Meehan.

There will not be a regulation clock to punch, like those found in various business houses, but officers will be checking in and out just the same.

The idea of the arrangement is to know that all officers are working as they should, where they should and when they should, according to a statement made today by Captain Meehan.

Meehan is mapping checking stations along the various roads and marking a few call stations. When an officer goes out on his beat, he is to call the office from certain places and check in at others. There will be times designated when an officer is supposed to be at a certain place and times designated when he is to leave that place.

Captain Meehan promises five-day suspensions to officers who do not live up to the rules of the new arrangement, he said today.

Just when the "clock punching" will start depends upon when the captain finishes marking the various beats of the men, he said. It may be a week, or even two, before the plan is perfected.

No complaint ever has been made, so far as is known, on officers not putting in the time required of them, but they recently received a raise in their salaries and Meehan wants the public to know that the officers are earning their monthly stipends.

MAN WANTED FOR MURDER IS SLAIN

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—Believed marking the aftermath of a San Francisco underworld war, a man, identified as Clyde Hilliard, wanted for the murder here several months ago of Eugene Bowen, ex-convict, was found slain early yesterday on the Skyline boulevard, near Colma.

The body was at the wheel of an automobile off the road.

A girl, believed to have been his companion, was found a short distance away, almost unconscious and profusely bleeding from a bullet wound in her throat.

The man was killed and the girl wounded, police believe, by the same revolver, a .38 caliber weapon employed by a third person yet unidentified. The girl, removed to a South San Francisco hospital, at first refused to divulge her name. Later she said she was Billie Burns, daughter of a former state employee at Sacramento.

She said she had been on a party with several other persons and did not know the slain man, nor remember any of the incidents of the shooting.

Suitcases containing men's and women's apparel were found in the automobile.

Identification of the slain man as Hilliard was made positive by comparisons of scars on the chin, neck and ear lobe, with records of the San Francisco police department.

The girl was believed to stand a fair chance for recovery.

Veterans' Committee Confers Today with Principal to Settle Difficulty

BOTH WANT FIELD
ON ARMISTICE DAY

Arrangements Where-Two Can Profit Expected to Follow Meet at School

Amicable settlement of a discussion between officials of the Santa Ana high school and Santa Ana post, No. 131, American Legion, over which should use Poly field for a football game November 11, in connection with the Orange county Armistice day celebration here, appeared virtually certain today.

Legion members, hearing the report at a meeting here, last night, of committeemen in charge of plans for the celebration, charged openly that they thought "the high school is trying to force something down our throats" in attempting to arrange a game of its own for Armistice day. The committee was officially instructed to "go down to the school and be hard-boiled."

A committee, representing the Legion post, was instructed to confer immediately with Principal D. K. Hammond and submit to him a proposition whereby both the high school and the legionnaires would benefit financially by the playing of a game between two service elevens, under the auspices of the World war veterans.

School Wants Money

Fred Faber and Carl Edgar, members of the football committee, reported that in a previous interview Principal Hammond told them the high school was desirous of playing on the Armistice day date in order to raise money for the building of additional bleachers at Poly field. Hammond proposed that the Santa Ana and Pasadena high school teams utilize the field that day and that the gate receipts be divided equally between the two schools and the Legion.

Faber and Edgar said that they were prepared to make a proposition whereby a substantial amount of money would be added to the school bleacher fund and so the legion as well could profit by the large crowd virtually certain to come here for the celebration.

Faber and Edgar said that they had had no argument with Hammond or any other official and that they believed the matter could be settled peacefully.

Hammond said today that the high school was ready and willing to co-operate with the legion in the proposed contest.

The Legion's contest, it was understood, would be between a navy eleven from San Pedro and a marine team from San Diego.

The second major subject of discussion in regard to the proposed rodeo on the afternoon of Armistice day, which, with the football game, would afford a double attraction. The committee finally voted, after much discussion, to permit A. Day to conduct a rodeo with a straight guarantee to the rison, Arnold Peek, Arthur Lutz, William Warren and Neal Raney. At the time Feighner became janitor in the Central school, J. A. Cranston was superintendent of the city schools.

During the years he has been connected with the city schools, Feighner has seen the school system grow from four buildings to its present extent. The only schools here when Feighner came to Santa Ana were the old high school, on North Main street; Central school, First Street school, now Roosevelt, and Third Street school, now McKinley.

Is Janitor-Poet

Feighner is known among the students as the janitor-poet. Words for several songs, set to music by S. J. Mustel, high school band and orchestra leader, have been written by him.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Feighner taught in schools before they came to Santa Ana. Mrs. Feighner passed the examining board and was qualified to teach at the age of 15. For eight years she taught in the schools of Eaton and Barry county, Michigan. Feighner taught for two years in Crawford county, Ohio.

The old methods of teaching, when everything from the A. B. C.'s to algebra was given, often in a single classroom, forms a sharp contrast with the modern system, says Feighner.

Although 68 years of age, Feighner has kept young. He had to give up teaching for his health. His janitor work furnished him with the exercise he wanted. Each morning at 5 o'clock, he goes to the high school to begin his work. Something of the amount of work Mr. and Mrs. Feighner accomplish is indicated by the fact that they have a quarter of a mile blackboard surface to clean daily.

WEST COAST-WALKER
"The Gay Deceiver," the picture closing tonight at the West Coast-Walker theater, offers a generous sample of sincere and sophisticated entertainment that the discriminating theater-goers can ill afford to overlook.

Lew Cody has the title role and is supported by a cast that includes Carmel Myers, Dorothy Phillips, Roy D'Arcy, Malcolm McGregor and Marceline Day.

A bevy of beautiful and shapely Fanchon and Marco dancing girls appear in "The Hollywood Beauties Idea." These girls come here after a long and sensational engagement at Grauman's Egyptian theater during the run of "The Big Parade" and present one of the martial numbers that proved so popular there.

Charles Beauchamp, former Santa Anan, is one of the headliners of the show. His musical offerings have been well received here as have the numbers of Miss Skeeter Hartwell, an acrobatic dancer. Dorothy Ray and Isabel Briant, who give a "Pierrot and Pierrette" dance and Kitty Matthews, an excellent toe dancer.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER
It was indeed an inspiration which caused Samuel Goldwyn to place the megaphone in the hands of Henry King for the direction of this production of the famous stage success "Partners Again" with Potash and Perlmutter, by Montague Glass. This hilarious film, which is the current attraction at the Yost Broadway theater is one of the outstanding humorous offerings of the year.

Once more the featured roles are in the hands of George Sidney and Alexander Carr, and to say that they enter into the spirit of this new adventure with even more spirit than their former efforts in the same roles, is but putting it mildly.

"Partners Again" is not merely a comedy. It has more thrills packed into it than the ordinary serial, and keeps the audience in a constant state of hysteria, besides, with its spontaneous comedy, so thoroughly interpreted by a most notable cast.

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

George Platt was named to take charge of all automobile parking for the day on the downtown streets and lots. A uniform rate of 25 cents for the period up to noon on Armistice day has been agreed upon. A number of lot owners have consented to allow the legion to use their property for the day, it was reported, without financial remuneration to themselves.

Don Jones, of Fullerton, was requested to form a cavalry unit. Jones is an officer in the cavalry reserve corps and is well qualified to direct the formation of the mounted platoon in the parade.

Franklin Grouard reported that one of the most interesting marching units in the parade would be the group presenting the uniforms of all the American wars. The costumes are to be secured from a large costume house in Los Angeles.

J. R. Hunt, loaned to the legion celebration committee by the Orange County fair board, stated that he would arrange for the leasing of concession spaces and for the letting of a contract for the supplying of ice cream to the Armistice day crowd. He also will have charge of the concessions at the rodeo, if it is decided to go ahead with that event.

Eleven Bands to Play
Harry Hanson, in charge of the band division, told the committee that he already had arranged for the participation of 11 bands and that he was prepared to secure more, if they were needed.

The cups to be awarded the winners in the float contests have been put on display in Ewert's jewelry store, Santa Ana, and will be displayed in other Orange county cities before the parade, "Chaplin" Chapman said. He also submitted a proposal for the printing of a de luxe program, but final decision on the matter was delayed until the next meeting, which will be held Monday night, September 27, in the American Legion hall.

Labs will be groomed to fill the shoes of Bud Houser, who graduated last spring.

He holds the national interscholastic championship in the shotput, the interscholastic indoor record, the interscholastic world record for the 8-pound and 12-pound shot and the interscholastic discus championship.

On special occasions, such as Christmas eve and New Year's night, an extra crew of "hello girls" is added to the regular staff at the telephone office, Miss Faris said.

SCHOOL NEWS

AMERICANIZATION

The Americanization department of the Santa Ana public schools has been most efficiently organized for the coming year. Miss Helen Walker, director, and Nellie M. Smith, assistant director, have outlined a progressive program.

The increased enrollment in the adult classes during the past year in Santa Ana shows that the interest in this work is growing. The day and evening classes for adult non-English speaking foreigners have two functions, the performing of one may be a step toward accomplishing the other, which is the main business of education. The real task is to help the foreign-born take his place as a citizen of the United States. He can do this more readily if he speaks the language which is the medium of communication in this country. Therefore the immediate aim is the teaching of English as a preliminary to its more important undertaking of making active participation in American life desirable and possible for those who come within its influence.

Special emphasis is being placed upon the class to be organized in citizenship by Leon McMullen. All persons interested in securing their second papers for United States citizenship are urged to become members of this class. The first meeting will be held at the Frances Willard junior high school, Thursday evening, September 23, at 7 o'clock. The enrollment, however, will not be restricted to non-citizens. Any adult desirous of becoming more familiar with the constitution of the United States will be cordially welcomed as members of this class.

Evening classes will be conducted three nights each week at the Frances Willard junior high school, Franklin school and Delhi school. The classes were organized September 20 at the two former places. The Delhi classes will be organized September 27 at 7 o'clock.

The teachers selected to conduct these classes are Iva Carl, Helen Ash, Bessie Harter, Jessie Hayden, Leon McMullen and Mildred Deebach.

The classes to be held during the day are now being organized at Logan street, Artesia and Delhi. These classes for women will include instruction in sewing, cooking, music, English, handicraft, child hygiene and dietetics.

The morning and afternoon classes in English, handicraft, practical and fancy sewing and cooking were organized at Artesia by Miss Walker. These classes are meeting with unusual response. Mrs. Ash conducts the cooking class.

Party Is Held
September 16, at the Logan street apartment, Mrs. Nellie Smith entertained a large number of former members of the adult classes. The apartment was tastefully decorated and a musical program was rendered. The hostess served delicious refreshments.

This entertainment was the regular opening of the center for the year's work. At the conclusion many signified their interest in joining the classes to be offered at this center during the year.

PARENT TEACHERS

The Fourth District of Orange county California Congress of Parents and Teachers P-T. A. school of instruction will open Saturday, September 25, at the Julia Lathrop junior high school, South Main street.

The meeting of which Mrs. G. N. Greer will be chairman, will open promptly at 9:30 a. m. with meditation or prayer by Mrs. J. V. Kelsey, president of this district, which will be followed by a flag salute and community singing. Mrs. Joseph Thurston will discuss "More and Better Music" at 9:50 o'clock and "Patriotism" will be discussed by Mrs. J. Edmund Snow at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Burt Vorce, first vice president, will be in charge of the business meeting which will open at 10:10 o'clock when Mrs. D. R. White will give a report on the ways and means committee. Mrs. Mary Robertson on the publicity committee, and Mrs. Albert Lauer on the parliamentary procedure committee.

At 11:10 o'clock the meeting will be turned over to Mrs. Roy Purpus, second vice president when a report of the membership committee will be given by Mrs. E. P. Ferris. Mrs. C. A. Marcy will talk on "Practical Work of the P-T. A." and "Emblem and Magazine" will be the subject for a talk by Mrs. H. L. Backs. At 11:40 the meeting will be adjourned until 1 o'clock.

From 1 o'clock until 1:30 o'clock the following classes of instruction will be in progress: Presidents, ladies, under Mrs. Neal Beisel, and finances, under Mrs. G. U. Straw. Mrs. W. M. Snow, third vice president, will preside over the session which begins at 1:30 o'clock. At this time there will be community singing, district department roll call and instructions to chairmen by Mrs. J. V. Kelsey.

For the remainder of the day Mrs. Kelsey will preside over the meeting. At 1:50 o'clock Mrs. A. Smith, state literature chairman, will discuss "Program Literature." Mr. Martin de Vrie will discuss "Public Speaking" and "Parent-Teacher Work from a Departmental Standpoint" by Mrs. W. W. Hopps, president of the tenth district will conclude the afternoon's discussions.

At 3:15 o'clock there will be a round table and at 4 o'clock a social hour.

NEED PATIENTS

EISENACH, Germany, Sept. 21.—The most important problem before the recent conference of the Hartmanbund (Association of German Physicians) was that of the proper distribution of doctors. It was learned that many of the younger doctors were idle, while older men had more practice than they could handle. A plan of distribution is being worked out.

HOME EDUCATION

There is nothing that will do more to make a child self-conscious than to send him among other children in clothes that are obviously unlike theirs. A boy is especially sensitive if he is wearing something extremely different from what the other boys wear.

I remember the first day my younger brother went to school. He was dressed in a little velvet suit that he had been wearing for best. Mother, unthinkingly, put it on him so that he might start to school well-dressed. She never had any idea that she was subjecting him to the ridicule of the other small boys who were less elaborately and, probably, more sensibly clothed. That afternoon he came home very much out of sorts because he had been teased so much about his suit. As a result of mother's mistake his whole first week was made miserable. Although he went the second day dressed like the others, they teased him quite a bit about his first costume.

It is a bad to dress a child too poorly as too extravagantly. Some children do not like to complain about their clothes and as a result wear those that are not quite as good as the others wear even though there is no question at all with regard to the parents' ability to pay for them. I know that I hesitated to complain when I was a small lad for some reason or other.

Little boys dislike to go in corduroys if the others of their age are wearing cloth suits; little girls dislike to go in gingham if the others are wearing something they think a little better.

I knew one small boy who was distinctly b-o-y. His mother forced him to go to school in curls. Probably much of the time that he spent there he was unhappy, and for no reason at all except that his mother liked curls on little boys of his age. Imagine the amount of ridicule that he went through, and the number "scraps" that he must have had to defend the curls that he hated.

A mother will do well to watch other little boys the age of her own son to see what they are wearing. When very young it is usually customary for the little fellows to wear hats; when slightly older they wear caps. Generally, they are old enough for a cap when entering kindergarten, but that depends a lot on the community.

Some well-meaning mothers dress their children different from the rest for fear that their children will look commonplace, and be "ordinary" children. There is little danger of a child being an "ordinary" child just because he wears clothes of the standard type. If he is going to be a leader, and not one of the "ordinary" children, he will show it in the usual way, by excelling in some activity such as debating, athletics, or the school chorus. "Different" clothes will tend to prevent this. On account of them the child will be likely to hesitate to mingle with the others, and may become what they will call "queer."

JULIA C. LATHROP

The fall semester at Julia Lathrop junior high school opened with an enrollment which has been increased by over one hundred new students. Monday, September 13 all students assembled on the bleachers while Mr. Nelson made an opening address to students and teachers. All teachers were asked to come to the platform and were introduced to the student body as the Lathrop faculty for the coming year. This list included ten new teachers who are Miss Corson, Miss Justice, Miss Manns, Miss Carl, Miss Jones, Miss Plavin, Miss Johnson and Miss Deane; Mr. Smith, Mr. Scott the athletic coach. In the Lathrop office we are very fortunate in having with us Miss Amy Reid. The entire faculty comes back to Lathrop after the summer activities with renewed strength and energy and a determination to put Lathrop at the top of the list of Orange county junior high schools.

After the student body assembly students were sent to their home classes for adjustment of programs and general instructions. The regular schedule was pursued with shortened periods for adjustments and assignments.

Classroom activities are resuming their regular form and student committees are taking hold of situations with an ardor and earnestness that is a credit to Lathrop spirit. Students and teachers are looking forward to a profitable year of advancement along all lines and feel sure that they have the best of materials with which to work for supremacy and for "Lathrop first."

SACRED ISLAND

EDINBURGH, Sept. 21.—The island of Iona, the sacred isle of the Hebrides off the west coast of Scotland, is the birthplace of Scotland's nationality, culture and religion. Its church of St. Columba might be called the Westminster Abbey of the land, for it contains royalties of Scotland, Ireland, Norway and France. The island has been sacred from time immemorial.

GRAND AVE.

The Grand avenue school opened with all teachers present and the largest enrollment of pupils on the first day in the history of the school.

The children came back happy and eagerly entered into their work with a fine spirit of cheerfulness and loyalty.

The class rooms have been enlarged by removing and changing partitions, giving better light and ventilation and a greater seating capacity.

The interior has been redecorated and one room has been refurnished with new desks, making it more attractive and more comfortable for the children.

An outside stairway has been built to facilitate the passing in and out of the pupils and to lessen the fire hazard.

These improvements will contribute much to the comfort, joy, and work of pupils and teacher.

ARTESIA

The Artesia street Mexican school opened last Monday, September 13, with an enrollment of 209 pupils for the week which is much better than in former years.

On account of the lightness of the walnut crop this year, the Artesia street school will probably not have to close down as in previous school terms.

The teaching staff at the Artesia street school is the same as last year:

Vivian Huffman, kindergarten; Inez McBay, 1B and 1A; Helen Abbey, Pre-Primer; Emma Dietrich, 2B; Stella Franzen, 2A; Katherine Duke, 3B and 3A; Jessie R. Boyd, 4B and 4A; Alice Faulstich, 5 and 6, and Edith M. Ritter, principal.

CONSIDER ESPERANTO

ADELAIDE, Australia, Sept. 21.—The South Australia education advisory board is considering the advisability of establishing classes for the study of Esperanto in the state schools. Esperanto is the proposed international language.

Eat wisely these warm days

Here's all the food energy you need—in a single appetizing dish—

Choose your morning menu wisely. Too much food may make you sluggish; too little food cuts down your strength.

Start the day with Shredded Wheat—Nature's perfect food for health and growth. Shredded Wheat is whole wheat—100 per cent—simply steam-cooked, shredded and toasted for your convenience. Proteins, vitamins, mineral salts and bran—all are there just as Nature grew them.

Top this wheat food with sliced peaches or other summer fruits—and you've put a most appetizing, satisfying and health-full dish upon your breakfast table.

A "Dirty" Deal

Sounds bad, but it isn't, because it's some of the best dirt we have ever had to deal with in Orange County. Here's about it.

Just far enough out of the city of Santa Ana to make the daily trip back and forth interesting, there is a Valencia grove containing a little over 7 acres that needs a new owner. The trees are eight years old, thrifty and well cropped. It has a highway location, scenic advantages and the setting would lend permanency and beauty to either a modest, or elaborate home. As an income proposition we assure you, it's of the best. This year, $500 worth to the acre, were picked. The price is $21,000 with one-fourth cash. We have it exclusively from the now resident owner.

ANAHEIM
This is a six-room house on a lot 100x150 feet in size. Property is located on one of the principal streets, and in addition to the house there is a gasoline filling station on the property. Owner wants to trade this place for a ranch or income, and is willing to put in cash amounting to $5,000 or more.

For Rent—Modern five-room house, furnished or unfurnished, reasonable rent, call 3288 for further information.

Santa Ana Fans Pick Dempsey to Beat TunneyCHALLENGER IS FAVORED ONLY
IN SENTIMENTDempsey or Tunney?
Champion or challenger?

Those magic words were on the lips and in the minds of every Santa Ana sport follower today as the principals in the most widely advertised heavyweight mixup of all time completed their training activity at Philadelphia where they will collide Thursday night.

In and around the Santa Ana sporting rendezvous, two things were apparent today:

1—That the majority of fans hopes Gene Tunney flattens Jack Dempsey flatter than the well known flapjack.

2—That the large majority of fans thinks nevertheless, that Dempsey will lay Tunney like linoleum.

There was little betting reported here. Dempsey was an overwhelming favorite in what small amount of wagering was being done.

Even a rabid Tunney supporter who put up $50 on the ex-marine several weeks ago was said to be "protecting" his investment at the longest odds he could find.

One $10 bet, at even money, was laid in a local barber shop that Tunney sticks eight rounds and another of $5 that he comes up for the seventh. Prevailing odds that the champion wins were 2 to 1 and the Tunney backers, if there were any, were trying to force the price to 5 to 2.

Opinions of Santa Ana sportsmen, as quoted on the streets today, follow:

W. R. Gordon—Just got me down for Old Man Dempsey.

Joe Steele—I'm afraid Gene hasn't much chance.

Jack Finn—Tunney won't last six rounds.

Bob Gram—Who's fighting and why?

Jack Stinger—Nothing to it but Dempsey.

Harry Gaspar—I like St. Louis chances.

Jack Meiss—Shucks! The champ's a cinch.

Harry Hanson—Have you heard this one?

"Easy" Wilcox—Tunney has a chance.

Tom Walker—Just write me down for that there Mr. Jack.

Bill Weiland—I know Jack too well. He'll cop.

Horace Snow—A marine always has to be figured on.

Eddie Lane—Tex Rickard will win.

Spencer Collins—What are you talking about?

Roy Peterson—Dempsey.

Mason Yould—Tunney will win in the ninth round.

Frank Angell—Nothing to it but Dempsey.

E. B. Koub—Tunney will win.

L. R. Crawford—Gene might foot the boys.

Milburn Harvey—Stanford 7, U. S. C. 0.

Bernard Parker—Will Jack's proboscis stand the gaff?

Eddie West—Dempsey in four rounds.

HIGH SCHOOL 'B' ELEVEN IN NEED OF LINESMEN TO RATE
CONSIDERATION FOR TITLE

If a heavy charging line can be developed, the Santa Ana Class B football team will be one of the strongest contenders for the Coast Preparatory league championship this year, in the opinion of Ray Adkinson, who is preparing his charges for their first scrimmage of the season with Anaheim Friday at Anaheim.

The B team's backfield material is good, Adkinson thinks.

There is Curtis Youel, 145 pound fullback from Willard junior high; Walter Thompson, Frank Hillgass, and Ernest Velarde, halfbacks; and Fred Fosdick at quarter, besides others with less experience but plenty of fight, who aspire for a backfield position.

In all there are 23 candidates out for the team. Quite a few are back from last year's "Bees" and most of the layers from the 1925 Class C squad have graduated to Adkinson's team.

For a while it was reported that Herbert Prior, fullback of last year, would attempt to train down to regain his old position, but he could not make the exponent rating and is out for a berth with "Tex" Oliver's varsity.

The first league game for the Bees will be with Long Beach on the home field Friday, October 15. The schedule for the lightweights has them playing Fridays on the opposite field from that on which the varsity plays Saturday.

Under the system being worked out by Adkinson, Hillgass, while playing halfback, is calling the signals. This is to utilize Hillgass's speed in carrying the ball.

Backfield candidates are Curtis Youel, Jack Rimel, Wylie Carlyle, Clarence Fairchild, Frank Hillgass, Ernest Velarde, Fred Fosdick, Harvey French, Walter Thompson, Harry Van Gorkum and Fletcher Buxton.

Players out for the line positions are Earl Thornhill, Donald Walker, Leslie Vaughn, Clarence Skidoway, Ralph White Martin Valkoff, Merle Boyle, Lloyd Manderscheid, Lynn Hamilton, Kenneth Manderscheid, Oscar Patmor, Gene Edwards,

Dr. M. A. Patton, local dentist, finished ahead of a field of 15 entries, in the weekly ball sweepstakes at the Santa Ana Country club. Dr. Patton shot an 83 and his handicap of 14 strokes reduced him to a 69.

C. K. McDonald with 87-16-71; George B. Shattuck with 84-12-72 and M. W. Clark with 87-14-73 were other winners.

Bruce Vegely, Richard Pearce, James Sherwood, Wayne Bartholomew and Lowell Thompson.

FIVE BUCKS KILLED
S. A. PARTY OF FOUR

Five bucks, three of which were brought down on the first day of hunting, were credited to four Santa Anans, Albert Fuller, E. B. Cubbon, Henry Carter and Bill Harvey, who had returned today from the Little Lake country.

Gene Thomas was the only member of a trio composed of Leo Hartfield, Henry Bartlett and Thomas, who bagged a buck during a hunt, completed today, in the Idylwild district.

Warren McCarty, 815 Lowell street, and Otis Miller, 825 Lowell street, were back today from a hunt in the San Jacinto mountains where Miller killed a three-point buck, weighing about 150 pounds.

Here's another comparison stunt on Jack and Gene—their pugilistic records.

It shows Dempsey started his pro career in 1915, or four years earlier than the challenger. It shows Dempsey has participated in 77 bouts against 60 for Tunney. It also shows Tunney has averaged about nine battles a year, while Jack's been in but seven. (Before Dempsey went on his three-year vacation, he, too, had averaged about nine contests yearly, however.)

In the matter of knockouts, Dempsey leads with 47, against 30 for Gene. A good portion of Jack's came in the first round. The late Bill Brennan was the toughest fellow for Dempsey to put out. Brennan stayed 12 rounds. Tunney found George Carpenter equally hard to bowl over, whipping the one-time idol of France on a technical kayo in 15 sessions.

Dempsey has won 11 decisions on points, once to Jack Downey and the other time to Willie Meekun. Both were four-round skirmishes. Gene has dropped but one decision, that to Harry Greb in 15 rounds in 1922. Incidentally, Greb is the only one to whip Tunney since Gene started his pro career.

Dempsey is charged with one knockout defeat—Jim Flynn did it in 1917 in one round. Tunney has been in one "no contest," the Jack Renault clash in 1912, which was stopped in the fourth.

REGISTER WILL ANNOUNCE BIG FIGHT RETURNS

A graphic, blow-by-blow description of the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney bout Thursday will be megaphoned by The Register, insuring Santa Ana sport followers of the quickest and most accurate details of the most highly advertised fistie struggle of all time.

Megaphone service will begin at 5 o'clock.

Dempsey and Tunney are scheduled to enter the ring at 8:30 p. m., eastern standard time, or 5:30 p. m., Santa Ana time.

Expert news-gatherers, representing The Register, will be in the camps of both champions and challenger before the fight and will be at the ringside during their encounter and every "scrap" of news that will interest the fans will be wired directly here and announced immediately to the crowd.

The Register's United Press leased wire will be "cut in" to the ringside at the Sesqui-centennial stadium at Philadelphia and will bring this newspaper the facts of the contest but a few seconds after they actually occur.

Colorful stories telling just what happened will be published on the sport pages of The Register Friday. A corps of veteran writers, including Henry L. Farrell, sports editor of the United Press, and Joe Williams, fistie critic of NEA Service, Inc., will furnish complete information for the readers of this paper.

POLY 'C' MEN
HOPE TO TAKE LEAGUE TITLE

Santa Ana's prestige among the schools of the Coast Preparatory league for turning out championship Class C teams will be defended this year by a likely squad of heavyweight football players under the coaching of Lynn ("Tubby") Crawford.

Although only two lettersmen from last year's team are back, a number of youngsters who played on the teams of the Julia C. Lathrop and Frances E. Willard junior high schools last fall have reported for practice. Returning lettersmen are Solon Beall and Harlan Watkins.

Altogether, twenty-six candidates have reported to Coach Crawford. A call was issued today for more players in the hope of uncovering some additional material.

Coach Crawford told the team players on the first night of practice that Santa Ana is feared in the Class C division in all branches of sports. Last year the Santa Ana "Sees" were runners up to Glendale in football for the championship. Crawford is confident he has a team that will figure in the championship race this season.

One athlete, John Keeler, looks especially promising for a backfield position. Keeler who played at Lathrop last year, is big and fast. He is out for the fullback position.

Those out for the backfield include Herbert Haxthorn, Charles Baker, Van Pomeroy, Harlan Watkins, Howard Hales, John Knox and James Snow. Others who have reported are George Horton, Dick Alexander, Maurice Burns, Clarence Speer, Solon Beall, Wayne Garlock, Wayne Cumrene, Vincent Dixon, Wylie Carlyle, Stanton Daley, Ivan Scott, Thomas Cone, Johnston Hadson, Fred Burley, Ray Dixon, Bruce Harding, Alva Williams and Emrys White.

Haitian farmers still transport their products mostly on burros back.

ST. LOUIS CARDINALS ALMOST 'IN' AS CHAMPIONS; REDS CRACK UNDER STRAIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—St. Louis was within reach of the National league pennant today, two games ahead of the Cincinnati Reds and only five games out only by the Cards can lose out only by dropping three of their remaining games while the Reds make a clean sweep.

Cincinnati went to pieces yesterday and dropped a double header the Boston Braves while the Cards were idle. The Reds almost seemed to have cracked under the strain in their showing against the Braves and played indifferent ball to lose, 4 to 3 and 3 to 0.

The Reds will play one more game with the Braves here today. Then three with the Phillies, then the final game of the season with the Cards next Sunday.

The Cards play two with Brooklyn, two with the Giants and the final with Cincinnati.

If the Reds can win the next four games while the Cards do better than the final game tied and will enter the final game tied and the pennant will be decided Sunday. It is their only hope.

In the American league, the Yankees' hold on first place was loosened a little when the Chicago White Sox took a double header from the New York Yankees 7-3 and 4-3, but Cleveland lost to Boston 3-2, so the danger to the Yankees was not as great as it might have been.

KEARNS LEADS FIGHT TO STOP
THURSDAY BOUT

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—This is the first of those hectic days which seem the inevitable prelude to every world's heavyweight championship fight, when the boys who had ambition to cut in on the luscious melon which only Tex Rickard, the master gardener, knew how to raise, try their best to get their share.

Before this excited city was fairly awake there could be seen marching on city hall, topped by its effigy of the benevolent William Penn, a little army of legal lights, following in the eager footsteps of that fistie genius, Jack Kearns.

They were bent upon attaching the profits of the forthcoming battle of the Sesqui-centennial, in the name of those who were disappointed that Jack Dempsey, besides being world's champion, had proved himself a good business man.

While fight fans, gathering from near and far, were just beginning to swarm the sidewalks and hotel lobbies with their talk or who would win the fight, John R. K. Scot and Arthur N. Saefer, attorneys, were busy with affidavits, pleas and other legal paraphernalia, bent upon seeing that the champion's former manager won at least $33,333 out of the affair.

Whatever the merits of the respective candidates in this heavy weight championship fight which now looms less than 72 hours away, the fact exists that the worry about this preliminary injunction business is confined to the champion's camp.

Jack Dempsey, having renounced active training for the affair, professes not to be worried, but he is too much of a business man to have an ear attuned to these legal proceedings which will occupy most of the day in Philadelphia.

On the other hand, Gene Tunney appears like an amateur contestant. The challenger has nothing to worry him.

Ter Rickard, aside from sundry other difficulties which always confront the promoter of a $2,000,000 affair, is doing a little worrying of his own about these threatened suits.

Rickard has posted a $100,000 bond whereby Dempsey will be permitted to leave the state of New Jersey and journey here for next Thursday's fight.

Kearns brought suit in Atlantic City to attach Jack's share of the purse.

The champion's former manager is making his main fight in Philadelphia, however, and it is here that the legal difficulties in the way of this battle of the Sesqui-centennial will be ironed out.

SANTA ANA FRATERNAL AND PATRIOTIC ORDERS

POEM WRITTEN BY REBEKAH IS READ AT MEET

A thought was planted in the minds of men Some five and seventy years ago, That like Adam Odd Fellowship was incomplete Without its corresponding Eve! From the thought, soon action grew And on September twentieth In the year, eighteen fifty-one, Schuyler Colfax gave to Odd Fellowship The Daughters of Rebekah. Then to the white, the blue, the red of friendship, love and truth Were intertwined the colors pink and green. Emblematic of steadfast friendship and eternal love!

The triple chain was now complete. A trinity divine! Whose golden links had bound the world In a service to all mankind. Then, on this diamond anniversary Of our own beloved Rebekah degree, May we all again renew the pledges of our order true!

—Hannah L. Harwitz.
The above poem played a prominent part in the exercises last night, of the Rebekah lodges of district 50, members of which were guests of Santa Ana Sycamore Rebekah lodge, in observance of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Rebekah degree.

A program followed the usual exercises. The following persons took part:

Roy Bishop, Mrs. Leidtke, Olive Gehard, Miss Parr, Hannah Harwitz, Helen Wishard, Mrs. Frevert, Miss Skinner, Miss Finley and the J. W. Mitchell trio.

A social hour was enjoyed after the program, when a number of the guests held an impromptu dance. Music was provided by the Blue Bird trio. Punch was served by the committee on arrangements, which included Mrs. R. T. Overton, Mrs. Hattie Peters, Mrs. Ada Walters, Mrs. M. C. Cooper and Mrs. Frank Gowen.

UNION DAUGHTERS LUNCHEON GUESTS

The home of Mrs. Cora Graham, of Garden Grove, was the setting Friday for a luncheon, when Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Maude Sutton, Miss Bertha Belt and Miss Emma Belt were hostesses to the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

Dahlias and roses from Mrs. Graham's gardens furnished the decorations for the occasion. Following the luncheon, the guests accomplished a great deal of sewing for the bazaar, while a program, in which Mrs. Graham and Miss Bertha Belt entertained with several vocal numbers, took place. They were accompanied by Mrs. Sarah Skiles. Mrs. Sarah Brown rendered a reading, as did Mrs. Helen McArthur. The one given by Mrs. McArthur was composed by her.

Mrs. Brown requested that as many members as possible attend the meeting, to be held Tuesday afternoon, in G. A. R. hall.

Guests of the organization were Mrs. Bessie D. Haas, Mrs. Hazel Vauter and baby daughter, Ruth, and Miss Hazel Frazier. Members present at the luncheon were Mrs. Kate Smith, Mrs. Margaret Church, Mrs. Helen McArthur, Mrs. Sadie Skiles, Mrs. Clara Corry, Mrs. Harriett Mitchell, Mrs. Ida Mae Clem, Mrs. Eva J. Bell, Mrs. Emma Chapman, Mrs. Eva S. Piper, Mrs. Kate Rinched, Mrs. Lena Hewitt, Mrs. Luella Hill and daughter, Fern, Miss Adda Cowan, Miss Minnie Cowan and Miss Gladys Vanhise.

Red Men Seek More Members

Steps were taken at the last meeting of Kiowa tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, to start a drive for new members. A committee was appointed to make plans for the drive and will report at the next meeting, which will be held Thursday evening, in the M. W. A. hall. It was announced that an adoption would be held at the earliest possible date.

Coal, Iron Fields Found In Sardinia

ROME, Sept. 21.—Vast coal and iron fields have been discovered at Perduosdefogu, in the province of Cagliari, Sardinia. The coal, estimated to total 30,000,000 tons, is said to belong to the same class as English anthracite. The iron field, nearby, occupies 200 square kilometers and is estimated to contain 80,000,000 tons of first quality, and from 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 tons of second and third quality. Extraction of the iron will be rendered easy by the proximity of the coal.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—A department store here now advertises silk stockings made to measure. The ad has been devised for the flappers with the funny knees and to do away with wrinkles and baggy folds.

Two hundred years ago New York had fewer than 6000 people, one-half of whom were negroes.

Elks All Ready For Big Picnic At County Park

Plans by members of the Elks lodge for a picnic, this evening, at Orange County park, have been completed and Elks are in readiness to leave for the park in time for supper at 8:30 o'clock.

Wives of the members have prepared basket lunches, which will be supplemented by coffee, made and served by Duffy.

According to L. A. Schlesinger, chairman of the entertainment committee, Barnes' orchestra has been engaged to play for the dance in the evening. Prize dances will be features of the evening.

WHITE SHRINE MEMBERS HOLD PARTY IN S. A.

El Camino hall was the scene of a happy gathering of White Shrine Wednesday night, when the local order entertained as special guests the hand maids and wise men of all Southern California shrines.

A delightful musical program followed the short business session. Vocal numbers were sung by Miss Marguerite Markas, of Huntington Beach, accompanied by Mrs. Harlow, William Sylvester sang "Song of the Angry Deep," and responded with "Always," as an encore. "Mother Machree" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" were sung by Herschel Clayton. Mrs. Marion Mustel played two cornet solos. Mrs. Ethel Thompson proved her worth as the accompanist of the evening and after much persuasion repeated several pianologues that had been given on a previous occasion.

At the close of the program a line of march was formed and all proceeded to the dining room where refreshments were served. The tables were attractive with little yellow nut cups, at each place, bearing shepherd's crooks, an emblem of the order. Huge baskets of dahlias were used, while yellow candles gave the desired lighting effect.

The out of town guests included Mesdames Mildred E. Johnson, Edith F. Nuckles, Wilhelmina Ziellborn, Olga H. Nuckles, Maud Lindesty, Anna E. Brown, Blanch L. Lytle, Louise Bodkin, Eliza Stearns and Messrs. Verne E. Johnson, Lyman Lindesty, C. A. Lytle, Raymond E. Nuckles, of San Bernardino; Mesdames Adele D. Klock, Wilmer W. Rogers, Messrs. Charles W. Taber and Wilmer W. Rogers, of Pasadena; Mesdames Lena H. Hubbard, Dorothy MacDonald, Adah L. Keefe, Alice Blakeslee, Marjorie Daily and Messrs. Clarence Runyon, H. F. Ford, A. P. Howes, of Huntington Park; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Knight and Mrs. William Sylvester, of Fullerton.

The committee having charge of the details of the evening included Mrs. Eva Jane Parker and Mr. Elmer Thompson, assisted by their attendants and guards.

Odd Fellows Are To Visit Whittier

Charles H. Kellogg, noble grand of the Odd Fellows, has announced that a large delegation from the Santa Ana lodge will attend Monday night's meeting of the Whittier lodge of Odd Fellows.

C. A. Palmer, of Orange, grand master of California Odd Fellows, will pay the Whittier organization an official visit. Santa Anas who are going to Whittier should leave Santa Ana by 6:30 o'clock, in order to arrive there in time for the opening ceremonies, it is pointed out.

Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Odd Fellows will confer the initiatory degree, in I. O. O. F. hall.

Woman's Relief Corps Gathers

The Woman's Relief corps met Thursday afternoon, in G. A. R. hall. All members of the corps were invite d to attend a meeting of the Sedgwick Social club, on Friday, September 24, when a short play, "How the Story Grew," will be given by the corps members.

At the Thursday meeting, plans were invited to attend a meeting flag to the First Methodist church, on Sunday.

It was announced that a bazaar will be held October 1, at G. A. R. hall. All members were requested to attend the bazaar at some time during the day.

Social Evening Is Enjoyed by Circle

White Shrine circle enjoyed a social evening at the country home of J. G. Sutherland, in Costa Mesa, Tuesday evening. Whist was chosen game of the evening. At the close of the games, Mrs. Eva Mae McConnell and Walter Wright were awarded prizes for having high scores, while consolation prizes went to Mrs. Jennie Shippe and W. Hartley. Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland were assisted as hosts by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Muller, of Huntington Beach.

YOUNG FOLK TO ORGANIZE FOR DRY LAW WORK

Representatives of young people's societies of the various churches throughout Orange county are to meet at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening, September 28, at 7:30, to organize and plan a county-wide campaign of work against the proposed repeal of the state prohibition law, better known as the Wright act, at the November election, according to an announcement made today at the Y. M. C. A. offices.

James McGiffin, of San Francisco, is to attend the meeting, to assist the young folk in organizing, and to explain the work to be done.

The meeting is called by Edith Culter, president of the Orange County Christian Endeavor union. Doyle McMillan, president of the Baptist Young People's union, Clive Sedoris, of the Epworth League of the Methodist church, South, and May Beamer, president of the district Epworth League of the Methodist church.

According to Miss Beamer, it is the purpose to bring together the county officers and the presidents of all local societies in the various organizations, so that the entire county may be covered in the effort of the young people to arouse public sentiment in behalf of the Wright law.

RAIN IN SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 21.—The season's first rainfall in Sacramento yesterday morning sent the mercury down to 43 degrees—the coldest temperature recorded since early spring, according to the U. THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: Swamp Fox

Sketches by Redner
Synopsis by Braucher

After the defeat of Rainey's Tory force Marion learned from a prisoner that another large band of Tories was forming nearby. The Swamp Fox placed part of his men in ambush and with the others pretended to retreat in confusion. The Tories pined, the ambuscade fell upon them from behind and they defeated them, taking two field pieces.

One of Marion's scouts bore him word that a detachment of British was conducting a large body of American prisoners from Camden to Charleston.

Crossing the river under cover of night Marion, with a few of his men, found the British quartered at the Blue House tavern.

A sentinel fired upon Marion and the little general called his small force into battle. The British, surprised and surrounded, surrendered. Marion called for their captain. He could not be found. The scouts dragged the tavern from top to bottom and at last dragged the discomfited British leader out of the chimney.

DAUGHTER NEDS SOMETHING TODO

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

The girl was sitting on the porch reading. Her mother went over to her and took her book off her knee.

"Now go and take a walk," said the mother.

"But there's no place to go! I've taken all the walks," protested the girl.

"Then go and get a basket and hunt me some fresh vegetables," said the mother. "If I stop to give this lazy daughter of mine a lecture."

"Certainly. Go right ahead," I urged. "I'd like to hear what you have to say. Not that your daughter deserves a lecture any more than several other million girls in her fix. I should like to hear what advice you have to give her."

"Well to begin with," said the mother, "when I was a girl your age, I had one dress in the summer. It was a white dress and when I went any place I washed and ironed that white dress. It was all I had. I always looked pretty nice, too."

"I've got about seven," smiled the girl. "And I dress is pretty faithful. Would I wash and iron even if I did? What you did as a girl, mine is a dead letter now. You fillyour time with turkey track on tides and the wildest rent you knew was a chaf party. Mother, dear, your are all personal history and can't make practical use of it. I'm educated and knowing but books and now life use for me."

The mother looked at her. "Well, I don't like to have you around reading," she said. "I'd exercise and you are stale. I wish I knew what to do."

Then I spoke up. It suggest something," said you mind? Let your daughter a business course and an office. You have no happy she will be."

Both looked amazed good-bye and left, to let me soak in. I met the girl today home. She had taken my advice and a different look on a. A look of purpose and s.

TWO WORLDS

There is a world of clay
And a spirit world where gleams
The light of our fondest dreams.
And one is of the day,
Noisy and coarse and known,
And the other we dwell in alone.

There is fame in the world of clay,
And money and pomp and place
Pain, suffering and disgrace
And all of these pass away,
But ever the spirit clings
To its simple and lasting things.

The world of the spirit glows
With the good man has tried to do,
And whether his dreams come true
Or whether their loss he knows,
In that world which he keeps alone
The best of his life is known.

'Tis there that his friends were found
'Tis there that his loves abide.
There is all of his nobler side.
When stilled is life's battle sound
'Tis the spirit and not the clay
That wakes to the brighter day.

The Leech

By AUSTIN H. CLARK
Smithsonian Institution

The size of a fish is not always a measure of its importance. Some fishes can make up for their small size by their great abundance.

The leeches, of which there are about 90 kinds in all, are queer slimy little things found only in Europe and in Asia. The largest kinds reach nearly a foot in length, but most are much smaller. Wherever they are common enough they are eagerly sought for food.

Leeches are especially common in central and eastern Asia. Generally speaking, they are most characteristic of swift streams with stony beds, in which they live up to at least eleven thousand feet above the sea. But they are found also in the lowlands, and in tropical India there are some very beautifully colored kinds.

They are common in stagnant water all over Japan, or pretty kind called the is abundant in the rice fields.

ANSWERED LETTERS

Nella Bell—For poor circulation the most valuable general aid I know is to stand erect before an open window, and pushing down hard with the arms from the shoulders as though trying to stretch the hands to the floor, take a sharp, deep breath pulling in briskly from the diaphragm and lifting the chest. Hold this breath while you count seven, and slowly exhale while you count 14. Repeat this three times a day if desired.

For nervousness and sleeplessness try this exercise before retiring: Lie flat on back on bed or couch, without pillow. Slowly raise legs about three feet from bed; then allow to drop heavily, of its own weight. Repeat this nine times, raise head, neck and arm. Then raise as high as possible from couch keeping body flat, and allowing head to drop back as above described. Repeat nine times. Then flex the knees, and supporting the weight on the feet and shoulders, raise the trunk of the body as high as possible, letting fall back heavily to couch. Repeat nine times.

You should not feel light after this exercise, but should feel your body heavy upon the couch. Rest in this state of absolute relaxation and freedom from tension, and refuse to think anything but thoughts of happiness during this period of delightful refreshment.

Indulge in this exercise whenever you feel tired or depressed. It brings peace to an overworked, high strung organism.

Answering Some Questions About the Most Advanced Method of Tire Building

Steps in Building a United States Tire by the Flat Band Method
1. Laying pieces of Latex-treated Web Cord on drum. 2. Applying tread rubber. 3. Placing tire on inflation machine. 4. Inflation finished. Tire formed.

Some facts about the United States Rubber Company's "Flat Band Method" which ensures uniform stretch and tension of every cord in the tire

Q—What is the "Flat Band Method" of building a tire?

A—The tire is built in the form of a flat band upon a drum. The pieces of Latex-treated Web Cord are laid and fitted by hand, one above the other. The opposite edges of the band are turned around and securely anchored to "beads" consisting of rings of many strands of piano wire imbedded in hard rubber. The flat band carcass is then brought into shape on a special machine.

Q—Does this differ from the usual method of building tires?

A—Yes. Before the United States Rubber Company developed the Flat Band Method, the usual practice was to use a solid, metal ring-shaped form on which the cord fabric was laid and pressed into place by a rotating wheel coming in contact with the surface of the rubberized fabric.

Q—What does Flat Band building add to the service of United States Tires?

A—It makes the tire uniformly strong throughout. It eliminates the fault often found in the old-style construction, of some cords being too taut while others were loose. In Flat Band building, all the cords are under even tension, and flexibility is uniform. There are no weak spots to develop trouble.

Q—What Company developed the Flat Band Method?

A—The Flat Band Method was developed by the United States Rubber Company and is patented and owned by this Company.

WORKMEN UNEARTH BONES OF PREHISTORIC MONSTER NEAR HUNTINGTON BEACH

In that period, about 200,000 years ago, more or less, a river found its outlet to the sea at a point several miles north of Huntington Beach and, during time of flood, the beasts of the Southern California forests were caught in the rush of waters, their bodies finally finding a resting place near the mouth of the river.

Nature, in the course of years, removed the forests, and the river, too, has disappeared. But the bones remained, hidden from the eye of man, until last week workmen discovered them, covered with the sand deposited in the pleistocene and glacial epochs.

Hundreds of persons visited the sand pit yesterday and motion pictures were taken, to be included in reels which will be shown all over the world.

Most of the bones, scientists have said, are those of Imperial elephants (elephas imperator), the largest animal outside of the saurian classification, which roamed the earth when the planet was young. The bones, accredited to be the most important fossil find since the discovery of the famous La Brea pit, or "death trap," will, in all probability, be given to the museum in Exposition park, Los Angeles, where they will be mounted, properly identified and displayed, according to Thomas Talbert, chairman of the board of county supervisors.

12 to 15 Feet High
The Imperial elephants usually stood about 12 to 15 feet high. The largest of modern times, experts declare, rarely is more than 9 or 10 feet high. Portions of three animals have been unearthed and the excavations are to continue.

The tusks first uncovered measured approximately 16 feet, the largest previously uncovered being slightly more than 14 feet long, according to Director William Alanson Bryan, and Assistant Paleontologist J. W. Lytle, of the Los Angeles museum.

One large tooth, said by the scientists to have belonged to the oldest of the three animals; a huge femur bone, said to have been part of the anatomy of one of the smaller animals; a toe, rib and several other bits of bone have been uncovered so far.

A pile of bones, crumbled beyond proper identification, also was removed from the gravel pit, and scientists say these bones probably represent the remains of saber tooth tigers, giant sloths and other animals that inhabited Southern California in the period immediately preceding the rush of the waters. Experts believe that, through further excavation, bones of these animals in a much better state of preservation may be found, with a resultant great benefit to science.

Part of Tusks Destroyed
The sand pit is owned by T. G. Harriman, of Long Beach, who has leased it to a gravel company for several years. Thirty-five feet of sand and gravel had been removed by the workmen when their scoop touched the bones. Not realizing the scientific importance of their discovery, the workmen went ahead with their work and in this manner, eight feet from two of the tusks was destroyed.

Upon being notified of the find, the experts from the Los Angeles museum hurried to the spot and dug until midnight, in the hope of uncovering more of the bones, upon which they attach the utmost importance from the angle of science and research. Director Bryan made the following statement:

"You have uncovered remains of three prehistoric mammals, all unquestionably Imperial elephants. Undoubtedly a large number of other bones, tusks, and remains of other animals of the same period will be uncovered as the work progresses. The Imperial elephant, largest mammal of the period on the face of the earth, was an herbivorous creature of enormous size, ranging from Northern Mexico and Texas to California, Oregon and Washington.

Washed in by Floods.
Judging from the pit face exposure in which you have uncovered these remains, I should say that the animals, or portion of animals, were washed in by great floods and were not mired in pits, as was the case in the famous La Brea field in which we secured such a wealth of valuable material of this character.

"In the find I could readily trace the course of events, though of course the number of years it took to carry on the various deposits is problematical. The tusks and bones were found embedded in and on a bed of coarse gravel and sand, apparently deposited by heavy flood waters. Above this is a layer of finer sand, deposited during a time of quieter waters. Then a deposit of clay indicates that a flood appeared carrying with it muddy waters, then another layer of sand, a layer of coarse gravel, etc., until in more recent times, anywhere from 25,000 to 10,000 years ago, the various strata of clay and soil were deposited near the surface.

Scientific Material Destroyed
"The fact that workmen report finding bones during the past year in various portions of the pit, in a section of quicksand at one side of the pit, and elsewhere lead me to believe that a host of highly valuable scientific material has been thrown into the dump and destroyed. It also indicates that in all probability this was a spot on which a great outlet for flood waters, a river or something of the sort, at one time emptied either on to a plain or into the sea, and that these remains have been washed down and imbedded in the sand where the waters quieted down.

"It remains, of course, for further exploration to tell how rich in material this pit will become, but it is my opinion that much valuable lore of the pleistocene epoch will be uncovered."

DELEGATES TO B. P. W. SESSION GIVE REPORTS

Echoes of the recent state convention of the Business and Professional Women's clubs in Hollywood, shared interest at yesterday's luncheon of the Santa Ana B. and P. W. club, with a song program, presented by Madame Leontine Redon, as a feature of the meeting at St. Ann's Inn.

Miss Louise Kaiser, president, and Miss Vanche Etouille Plumb represented the Santa Ana club at the convention, held early in September, and each gave a concise report of the activities, both business and social. Miss Plumb expressed but one criticism, feeling that each club would have profited by the round tables and presidents' reports, which were discontinued in order to provide time for speakers and programs.

Plan Theatre Party
Hazel Thomas Northcross, chairman of the September program committee, asked an expression from the club as to the desirability of planning a theatre party for the last Monday in the month. All were enthusiastic in their approval, and the members will attend a theatre in a body next Monday night, later having a social hour with refreshments.

Miss Leonora Tompkins, always a welcome guest at the club sessions, played the accompaniment for Madame Redon, who quite won the hearts of the members with her beautiful voice. Her first number was "Habanera," from Carmen, sung with brilliancy and finish. Madame Redon's French was perfect and her hearers later were quite interested in learning that she is of French descent.

Sings Three Numbers
A clear ringing tone and unusually distinct enunciation made her program unusually pleasant. She followed "Habanera" with Curran's "Dawn," and responded to the applause with "Long, Long Ago," showing her versatility and power of expressing different emotions in song, as the selection was in direct contrast with the first two numbers, which also differed greatly in theme and composition.

Two new members, Miss Pearl Nicholson and Miss Marcia Babbitt, were greeted, while warm "welcome home" was extended. Miss Doris Robbins, after an absence of several months because of illness, "Chatter," the club's monthly paper, was issued and Miss Kaiser called attention to the fact that those members who had missed their copies of any edition of the paper might obtain them either from her, at Dr. Frank A. Paterson's office, in the Moore building, or at the Quality Print Shop.

Autos In France Show Big Growth

PARIS, Sept. 21.—France is prosperous if prosperity is indicated by the number of automobiles in use in the country. Statistics show there was an increase of 146,370 cars of all kinds at the end of 1925 over 1924. The figures for 1926, it is said, will show a further big increase. With the end of 1925, the total number of cars running on the roads of France was 721,396. Paris and the Department of the Seine led with 124,659.

Governor Works Without Salary

BOSTON, Sept. 21.—The value of Gov. Alvan T. Governor Fuller has turned back all of his salary checks since he became lieutenant governor, ten years ago.

NEWS from ORANGE COUNTY

LOT OWNERS OF H. B. TO DISCUSS OIL QUESTION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 21.—Another mass meeting for property owners has been called for Friday evening, following the report of City Clerk C. R. Furr to the board of trustees last night.

Furr presented a list of 511 property owners in a list of lifting restrictions and a list of 143 against the lifting. As the total of the two lists is only 654, while the total number of lots in the city is placed at 2197, the trustees ordered the mass meeting called. A stenographic report will be made, including the names of all speakers at the meeting and the amount of property they own. This will be taken as a representative opinion of property owners, it is stated.

That all oil derricks in the new Seventeenth street district must be guyed to prevent possible damage from high winds was the decision of the board. Merwin Rosson, city engineer, was ordered to have all derricks in this district guyed immediately.

Because of the dissension between the owners of the fishing barge off the municipal pier, the trustees revoked the landing permit permanently.

The application of the Standard Oil company for permission to establish a service station on the lot now used for a free parking space on Ocean avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets was refused.

Dave Stuart asked for an appropriation of $50 to fence the baseball park. The request was granted.

Cecil Day of the San Diego naval training school spent the week-end with his aunt, Mrs. Rosa Hodson.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bristow, accompanied by the former's mother, Mrs. C. R. Bristow, of Turlock, and an aunt, Mrs. Mintie Mackey, of Montebello, left Thursday evening on a month's visit with Mrs. Bristow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cooper, at Mancus, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Beer and Mr. and Mrs. John Beer, of Whittier, returned home Sunday evening from a week's stay at San Francisco.

When the Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Malan prepared to attend the regular monthly social of the Men's Bible class of the Methodist church at the John Scott home on South Palm street, they little realized the surprise in store for them. The class had chosen this date to commemorate the tenth wedding anniversary of their pastor and his wife. Members brought aluminum ware.

A short program was presented, which included readings by Mrs. Sarah Barber and Mr. Wood, and a group of songs by M. J. Pickering.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hodson and children, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Froud, Mrs. Sarah Barber, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Morris, G. E. Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smith, Mr. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Larson, John Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Randall, the Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Malan and the host and hostess.

Members of the J. B. Card club met with Mrs. William Guth Friday evening. Fall flowers were used by the hostess in the decorations. Five hundred was played, with prizes going to Mrs. O. T. Stephens, and Roy Barker, with consolation to Jack Chewning and Mrs. William Heiden. Refreshments were served to the following members and guests: Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Muchow, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Heiden, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stanford, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barker, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Chewning, Mrs. Thomas Oliver, Mrs. Lucille Reichling, of Whittier, and the host and hostess.

The Benevolent society of the Christian church held a social meeting Thursday at the Christian church. A pot-luck luncheon was served at noon. The day was spent in quilting. Those present were Mrs. C. J. Stoutsberger, Mrs. L. E. Stewart, Mrs. W. Stewart, Mrs. George Gordon, Mrs. Ernest Snider, Mrs. J. Snively, Mrs. J. H. Upton, Mrs. J. H. Houser, Mrs. H. S. Haysom and Mrs. Cecil Tacker of Anaheim.

Mrs. Rollo Walling presided as hostess at a well appointed bridge luncheon at her home Friday. Attractive prizes were awarded to Mrs. E. H. Little and Mrs. Edgar Lehman, with consolation to Mrs. Claude Ridgeway. Participating in the happy affair were Mrs. Edgar Lehman, Mrs. W. H. Walling, Mrs. R. F. Frantz, Mrs. N. M. Launer, Mrs. Claude Ridgeway, Mrs. E. H. Little, Mrs. Louis Muchow, Mrs. William Heiden, Mrs. A. J. Wilson, Mrs. J. A. Chewning, Mrs. George Soules,

14 New Homes Being Built In Buena Park

BUENA PARK, Sept. 21.—Fourteen new homes are under construction here, and 18 homes are undergoing additions or remodeling. Business and building activity is showing an upward trend and within the next few months, activity is expected to increase rapidly, according to officials of the chamber of commerce.

UNION GETS 1009 BARREL BREA WELL

BREA, Sept. 21.—That the old Stearns lease at Brea is one of the cream oil properties of the Southland is being demonstrated by the Union Oil company. The Stearns lease has been listed in the oil properties of the Union Oil company for more than a quarter of a century as an active producing property, and today it is not uncommon for the Union to go out and drill a 1000-barrel well.

The Union's latest success was made at Stearns 66, this well coming in for a 1000 barrels. The oil is 27 gravity.

The Continental Oil company, under the name of S. H. Keoghan, entered the Brea field area about a year ago and has made an enviable record for development. The company has drilled and put on production two wells, and is getting ready to start a third.

Not only has the Continental been able to drill and compete its wells in much faster time and with less expense than its neighboring competitor, one of the big five, but it has gotten a much larger production, one of the wells making almost double the output. It is understood that the Continental is not following altogether California oil well drilling methods, but has introduced its own and the results are speaking for themselves.

The Herndon-Hunter Oil company is not meeting with much success with its wildcatting work on the Wagner property at Richfield. Herndon-Hunter selected the property some two years ago and decided to make the test a few months ago. The test well has been carried to 5200 feet and to date nothing in the way of showings or indications has as yet been found, and with over 5300 feet of hole and no showings the outlook is not very good.

The activity of several competitors in drilling line wells in the old Richfield district has started the General Petroleum corporation on a brisk development campaign at Richfield. It has eight projects under way there.

It is drilling Thompson No. 1-A at 2710 feet, drilling Thompson No. 9 at 370 feet, rigging up for Stern No. 7 and Stern No. 8, putting in foundation for Stern No. 9, drilling Hugo No. 4 at 1802 feet, and rigging rotary on Hugo No. 5.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 21.—A very pleasant affair was held in the Methodist Episcopal church parlors on Friday evening, when members of Mrs. G. R. Reynburn's and Mrs. C. N. Frank's Sunday school classes gave a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Louis Goodwin. Mrs. Goodwin, before her marriage in June, was Miss Florence Whitten, first grade teacher in the Lincoln school.

Progressive games were played, after which delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Goodwin was the recipient of many lovely gifts. Among those present were Mesdames Louis Goodwin, A. E. Whitten, C. N. Franks, David B. Loofbourrow, Irvine German, Albert Schneider, S. C. Oertly, Ray Christensen, Stella Diegones, Clifton Bryan, Wayne Holt, Andrew Smiley, W. W. Merchant, M. R. Sprinkle and Mrs. Misses Mabel Head, Eva Lake, Florence Pearson, Norma and Mettie Rossman and Amelia Seldmore.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Crosby, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wright, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Jackson, who are staying at San Juan Capistrano Hot Springs.

Manly Natland, who played with Red Grange in "One Minute to Play," is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Natland. He is a graduate of Santa Ana high school and is a junior at Pomona college this year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wheeler and family, accompanied by Mrs. Nellie Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Wanner, enjoyed a trip to Camp Baldy Sunday.

Mrs. A. V. Douglas, Mrs. Thomas Mahoney, Mrs. Norman Moody, Mrs. Charles Ferran, Mrs. Bruce Stanford, Mrs. George Schlagenhauf, Mrs. E. A. Johnson, Mrs. Edgar Leutwiler, Mrs. Paul Pratt, Mrs. Rollo Hilbert, Mrs. H. P. Bender, Mrs. Janet Espolt, Mrs. Robert Gilmore, Mrs. Walter Mundt of Whittier, and the hostess.

Section three of the Ladies' Aid society will meet with Mrs. Allen Parson, of East First street, Wednesday afternoon. This will be the first meeting of the fall season and election of officers will be held.

The Missionary society of the Methodist church will hold a joint meeting of the home and foreign societies at the social hall Thursday afternoon. Election of officers of the foreign society will be held and plans made for the year's work.

ARRANGE PLANS FOR HIGHWAY CELEBRATION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 21.—Representatives from coast cities of Orange and Los Angeles counties met in Huntington Beach at noon today, to complete arrangements for the big celebration which is to formally open the new section of the State highway between Huntington Beach and Laguna Beach. The date for the event has been fixed at approximately Columbus day, though the final decision rests with Laguna Beach.

As planned today, the celebration will start in Long Beach, where a caravan will leave some time during the morning, headed by a boat on wheels. In this boat will be little Miss Long Beach, a girl somewhere between 6 and 12. The Long Beach delegation will stop at Seal Beach, where Miss Seal Beach, another little girl, will be taken aboard the boat. At Sunset Beach, another little miss will enter, and so on until Newport and Balboa are reached.

At Balboa, members of the Black Pirates, a Balboa yacht club organization, will form a body guard for the boat. They will be mounted and clad in the full regalia of their organization.

After all of the cities along the route have been visited, the caravan will reach Laguna, there to be officially welcomed at a luncheon and afternoon program in which the art colony, prominent movie stars, and the citizens in general will participate.

Huntington Beach selected its queen, little Miss Ellen Jean The dieck, 8, today to represent the city in the pageant and caravan which will formally open the new section of highway between this city and Laguna. She is the daughter of City Attorney and Mrs. A. J. Thiediek, of 525 Seventeenth street. The selection was made by a committee consisting of Dr. G. A. Shank, president of the chamber of commerce, and a group of business men.

PHONE BOOKS SHOW FULLERTON GROWTH

FULLERTON, Sept. 21.—Distribution of new telephone books yesterday showed that Fullerton had added 200 names since the last directory was issued last April. This city will require 1600 books, according to E. A. Beard, district manager, while 250 books will be sent to Brea and 300 to Placentia.

Marjorie Gowan Laguna "Queen"

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 21.—Marjorie Gowan, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Gowan, was chosen yesterday by a jury of artists to be "Miss Laguna Beach" in the Coast highway celebration in October. Her father is a member of the firm of McPherson and Gowan, civil engineers, and Mrs. Gowan is prominently identified with club work. The child has rare histrionic talents in addition to fine figure, face and intelligence.

The jury, representing the Laguna Beach Art association, was composed of Frank W. Cuprien, chairman, Miss Ana A. Hills, Karl Yens and William W. Riddell.

Co-operation of the school authorities with the celebration committee made it possible to obtain 24 candidates. Three children were selected from each of the eight grades by vote of the pupils themselves. George K. Bingham, principal of the school, and Miss Marie Madden, Miss Zella Handy, Mrs. Wilberta Main and Mrs. M. B. Test, teachers, talked to the children and impressed upon them the fact that their choices must not be ruled alone by popularity. The result was that the artists had 24 representative children.

Maneuvers Show Infantry Supreme

ALDERSHOT, Eng., Sept. 21.—Predictions that the next war will be almost entirely in the air were not borne out by the recent British army maneuvers in Hampshire. The effectiveness of infantry above all other arms was proven to the satisfaction of most military experts. Rain and fogs upset the plans of the air force in the maneuvers as they often do in real warfare and the infantry had to carry on while the flyers waited for conditions which would enable them to destroy the enemy. Many problems arose which showed the necessity for more effective means of using infantry. Experts are suggesting small tanks, which can be operated by two men to lead larger tanks into action.

$175,000 BOND ELECTION FOR BATHHOUSE TO BE HELD AT NEWPORT BEACH OCT. 28

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 21.—Protests from about 140 property owners representing 655 lots, against the calling of the proposed $175,000 bond election for the erection of a municipal bathhouse, were overruled by the trustees last night at the regular meeting of the board.

The city attorney, Clyde Bishop, was instructed to prepare an ordinance calling the election for October 28. This will be passed for first reading at a meeting of the board next Monday evening.

The proposed bathhouse is to be located on five lots valued at $40,000. The actual cost of the building is estimated at $135,000. Commodious accommodations, including a swimming pool, will be incorporated in the structure, according to the architect's plans.

Agitation for a new bathhouse was started following the destruction of the Newport bathhouse, a private establishment, last spring.

DEEP SANDS AT H. B. TO BE TESTED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 21.—The McKoon No. 1 well of the McKoon Oil company in the west end of Huntington Beach will go to 4200 feet before making a production test, according to the present plans of John McKoon, president of the company, as announced yesterday. Some observers of the field believe this is too deep, and that the well is likely to run into a water sand, but McKoon plans to core carefully and if showings do not warrant it, he will stop before he gets to 4200 feet.

The McKoon No. 1 is now drilling ahead at about 3700 feet, with a gas pressure which almost resulted in a blowout about two days ago. The well set casing over the upper zone at 3200 feet, after drilling to the top of the second zone at 3570 feet. There should be about 600 feet of oil zone, according to McKoon, and he expects to penetrate as much of it as possible before stopping, in order to demonstrate definitely just what the possibilities of the zone are.

J. W. Colwell Is Made Commander Of Legion Post

NEWS FROM ORANGE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

HORACE E. INGE CHOSEN ORANGE MOTOR OFFICER

ORANGE, Sept. 21.—Horace E. Inge, of Orange, was the man chosen to be the motor officer at the special meeting of the board of trustees yesterday afternoon.

Inge will succeed Charles Wallace, who is now on vacation, October 1. Inge was one of 12 applicants for the office. Those whose applications were passed upon by the trustees in executive session preceding the selection of Inge were L. J. Baier, O. D. Scott, William C. Handley, R. H. McFadden, R. W. Knight, A. L. Steward, R. G. Bookless, Gene Fisher, C. W. Barker, J. H. McCarthy, Roy Choate and Inge.

Inge is a former engineer for the Orange Ice and Cold Storage company.

The trustees voted to stand the expense of grading Citrus street. They also voted to fill in the space between curbs in Jewell place on the south side of West Chapman avenue.

A letter from C. Lincoln Bennett, West Chapman avenue, asking that his water meter be changed from an old main to a new main installed some time ago, was referred to the water superintendent, W. J. Richardson.

Upon a request of city marshal, B. F. Richards, L. F. Coburn, city attorney, was instructed to draft a dog pound and license ordinance to take the place of an old ordinance on the same subject and include features found necessary recently.

BOY SCOUT FUND CAMPAIGN STARTS

ORANGE, Sept. 21.—Boy Scout workers took the field this morning prepared to interview some 200 residents of Orange and vicinity in an effort to raise $1400, the amount named as necessary to continue the Boy Scout work in Orange.

A meeting of approximately 20 interested citizens was held last evening in the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce offices to formulate plans. Delegations from the Rotary, Lions and Elks clubs made up the majority of the committee.

Headed by Stanley Mansur, district council member, and Al Tomblin, Boy Scout chairman of the Elks club, the committee decided that the campaign should last two days and a half.

Redlands Man Is Arrested On Wine Charge In Orange

ORANGE, Sept. 21.—Charged with possession of a quart of wine in a gallon jug, Homer Jenkins, 21, Redlands, is under $30 bond, following his arrest Saturday night by Captain C. W. Pulley, of the local police.

Jenkins, with five companions, was arrested about 11 p. m., Saturday, by Captain Pulley. Recorder G. W. Ingle released the group upon recommendation of Captain Pulley, following the posting of the $30 bond.

The hearing of Jenkins on the possession charge was set for September 23 at 10 a. m.

NEW SIGNS FOR PLAZA PLANNED

ORANGE, Sept. 21.—Adoption of the plan fostered by the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce for new signs in the Plaza was practically assured, following the visit to Orange yesterday of D. C. Rhodes, field manager, and Merle Emerson, of the sign post department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Under this plan, which was submitted to the city board of trustees some time ago, all signs now directing traffic around the circular park will be removed. Similar signs, but with fewer words, will be fixed on light standards on the corners of the four streets converging at the plaza. It is hoped in this way to clarify the direction problem for tourists.

The visitors yesterday conferred with the sign committee of the chamber of commerce, composed of K. Watson, William Hagen and William Clement.

Besides recommending the changing of the signs, the Auto club representatives also recommended to local authorities the better lighting of the plaza, declaring that in its present condition, the plaza was a menace to traffic. Mailed glasses in place of the round glasses now in use would remedy the matter, it was stated.

A white zone line approximately eight feet from the chain rail on the outer edge of the plaza also was recommended.

LOSES AUTO FENDER

ORANGE, Sept. 21.—When he pulled out from the curb on West Chapman avenue Saturday evening, Elva Lampson, 560 North Glassell street, lost the fender off his small touring car, which was struck by a car driven by S. Cole, 417 South Cambridge street. No other damage to either car was reported to the city police.

CLYDE A. PAYNE KILLS HIMSELF IN LONG BEACH

ORANGE, Sept. 21.—Clyde A. Payne, 45, well known Orange attorney, shot and killed himself yesterday afternoon in the comfort station below police headquarters, Long Beach.

Mr. Payne left a note stating that he felt himself "slipping mentally" and found conditions "no longer tolerable." The message also indicated all of his possessions to his wife.

No inquest will be held, it was said in Long Beach today. An autopsy was scheduled to be performed some time today at the Cleveland parlors in Long Beach, where the body was taken.

The bullet entered the right temple. It is believed that death was instantaneous.

Mr. Payne's home was at 332 North Orange street.

The body will be taken to Escondido for burial. Mr. Payne is survived by his wife; his mother, Mrs. Martha Shook, of Ashland, Ore., and a sister.

Y. DIRECTORS TO ORGANIZE 17 CLUBS

ORANGE, Sept. 21.—Initial meetings of Y.M.C.A. clubs are scheduled to be held this week and next, according to C. E. Morrow, secretary. The Hi Y club has organized and held several meetings. Three of the younger boys' clubs met last week for the first time. The Friendly Indians will hold their first pow-wow Thursday evening.

The program as outlined last night at the meeting of the Y.M.C.A. directors provides for 17 clubs with a total enrollment of 225. The camps during the summer entertained 62 boys and girls from Orange and 361 youth from Orange county, it was disclosed.

The directors reaffirmed the policy of the Y.M.C.A. of co-operating with any and all churches of the community in boys' work. That they recommended the participation of members and workers of the Y.M.C.A. in the Boy Scout fund campaign now being conducted, was the decision of the board.

The financial report showed the Y.M.C.A. fund to be in very good condition. There has been no borrowing nor will there be any, according to present indications, stated Morrow.

THE FIGHT FAR FROM WON

Several important phases of the fight for the passage of the Swing-Johnson Boulder Canyon Dam bill were brought out at the meeting of the Boulder Dam Association in this city last Saturday.

Perhaps the most important of these is the fact that, although Southern California people seem to be almost unanimously in favor of the passage of the Swing-Johnson bill, the fight is far from won. Indeed, Congressman Swing emphasized the fact that a tremendous fight is yet to be made, and while successful outcome is hopeful it is by no means assured.

If anybody in the world really knows the facts in this matter it is Congressman Swing. And he says that not only the power companies of California—the Southern California Edison Company, the Southern Sierras Power Company and other smaller companies—and those of Arizona and Nevada are fighting this bill, but that all of the power companies all over the country are fighting it. Mr. Swing stated positively, and other speakers, including members of the California legislature, corroborated his statement—that the defeat of the Metropolitan Water District bill in the California legislature was brought about by the power companies; and that their purpose in defeating this bill was that the organization of the Metropolitan Water District would have provided powerful support for the Swing-Johnson Boulder Canyon Dam bill. The Metropolitan Water District of the coastal area of Southern California, as provided for in what we know as the Metropolitan Water District bill, will be the largest and most important contractor for both water and power when the Boulder Canyon Dam project is brought to fruition, and until that district is formed and ready to do business with the federal government the Swing-Johnson bill is lacking in one of its fundamental elements of strength.

Over and over the point was emphasized, not only by Congressman Swing but by other speakers in a position to know what they are talking about, that all the power companies of the country are linked together in a common cause for the defeat of the Swing-Johnson bill; for while those power companies in other parts of the country would not be directly affected by the development of low-cost electric power on the Colorado river, they are opposed to that development because it would point the way for similar development elsewhere that might affect them as directly as this development would affect the power companies of the Southwest.

In the discussion of plans for raising money to finance a vigorous campaign in support of the Swing-Johnson bill for passage at the coming short session of Congress, it was brought out that none of the officers of the Boulder Dam Association receives any compensation whatever and few of them any expense money. In fact it was shown that most of the officers of the company are paying most of their own expenses, and these expenses have been considerable. And significant in this connection, was the way in which response was made when the apportionment by counties of the $17,500 fund proposed to be raised was announced. A roll call of the counties brought pledges from every county that its quota would be forthcoming. Indeed, those responding for the various counties assumed personal responsibility for the quotas of their respective counties. San Diego county went even further than this and offered to relieve Imperial county of its quota, on the ground that the Imperial valley had already contributed out of proportion to the other counties to the work of financing the Boulder Dam project.

The point of all of this is that every community and organization in Southern California not already having membership in the Boulder Dam Association should take such membership at once, and not only contribute to the fund proposed to be raised, but lend the association its moral support and active co-operation in the great work it has undertaken.

DRIED CITRUS JUICES

Orange county citrus growers have a direct interest in any new uses to which oranges or lemons may be put. Citrus by-products are an interesting field for development.

Here is something that may bring about some further use for oranges and lemons that are filled with good juice but which on account of size or appearance are not marketable. A special dispatch from Baltimore to the Boston Transcript reads as follows:

"In the future compact little packages of dried orange juice will probably form an essential part of ships' supplies. It is well known that citrus fruits are rich in vitamins, which have the property of preventing scurvy, a disease from which sailors on long voyages used to suffer greatly in years past. Recent experiments have shown, according to a report about to be published in the Journal of Biological Chemistry, that orange juice can be dried and still retain its health-giving vitamins after long periods of time."

There would seem to be no reason why powdered citrus juice should be confined in its use to seafarers alone. Travelers by land as well as by sea could use it to advantage.

EUROPEAN VOICES

Two utterances in the "Hall of the Reformation" at Geneva, on the occasion of German admission to League membership:

From Briand, for France: "No more war, no more suffering hereafter with our international differences. We will go before the courts like private individuals. France has no more further need of heroic demonstrations than has Germany, and in the future we will work together like brothers. I don't mean to say that all differences and difficulties have been settled, but that hereafter we will settle them peacefully."

From Stresemann for Germany:

"The Divine Architect endowed peoples with different blood, different languages and different home lands, but this cannot justify men in using their national strength against each other, thus hindering the development of civilization. The political expression of these thoughts is found in the duty of the nations peacefully to co-operate. The surest foundation of peace is a policy of mutual respect and understanding.

"Even before its entry into the league Germany proved its desire for such co-operation by taking the initiative leading to the Locarno pact. Germany's arbitration treaties with its neighbors make a further evidence. The German government is determined to continue this policy. These ideas, formerly bitterly fought in Germany, now have conquered German public opinion, and thus the great majority of the German people support the government's intention to share wholeheartedly in the work of the League."

Their utterances, voiced with deep feeling, brought tears to the eyes of the world's rather cynical statesmen, and were followed by ringing cheers.

God grant that they have spoken truly, and that their successors may carry on the work in their spirit.

There may be more hope for Europe than Americans have thought.

Harder to Fool the People

San Bernardino Sun

It was P. T. Barnum, almost a century ago, who was credited with saying that "A fool is born every minute." It was a much better and a wiser man who said: "You can fool all the people some of the time, and some of the people all the time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time." We have not a few who think they can not be fooled at any time. Perhaps that belief itself fools them. At any rate Lincoln's idea on the subject is becoming more and more true. It is very difficult in these days to fool all the people at any time, for more than a brief period at the most. What with better general education, tremendously developed means of spreading information, such as the newspapers, the telegraph, the telephone and radio, a hoax has before it a short life.

Barnum had quite a long run of popularity and credulity for his woolly horse, his mermaid and other fakes, because the means of spreading knowledge did not exist and the general foundation of education was not so solid as now. The Cardiff giant fake also had quite a run for the same reason. Nowadays the publicity stunt is a short-lived one. The publicity man is satisfied if he "puts it over" for even a single day. If it runs a week it is a tremendous success. It is becoming harder and harder to fool the people. Even the politicians have discovered that fact so restrictive of a long political career.

The recently exposed fraud in the alleged discovery of the body of Lord Kitchener shows how fakes for advertising purposes are becoming more and more difficult to create and keep alive. It was a brave effort, equal to the best that has ever been "pulled off" in the United States, where such things are supposed to reach their highest point, but the very publicity it was getting proved to be its death-blow. The British government quickly punctured it. It is a question whether stunts have any real advertising value. They certainly have not for anything which has merit and lasting quality of its own. Like too much stimulant for a weak body, the reaction is fatal.

No Overcrowding Yet

Pasadena Star-News

The present population of the earth is somewhat in excess of one billion and a half. This seems like a great mass of humanity. It is. But the earth, as a whole, is not overcrowded. It is true that in some countries—China and India for example—there is a crowding of population. But the continent of Europe is not seriously crowded. Japan is beginning to feel rather pent up. It is reaching out for outlets for its population. But even there the situation is not alarming yet.

There is much habitable land on three or four continents. There is Africa. The Lord only knows how much vacant, arable land there is in Africa, once known as the "Dark Continent." There are immense areas of fertile land. Much of it must be reclaimed, but there are great rivers there from which to get water for reclamation. Africa could take hundreds of millions of inhabitants more than it has and still not be crowded.

And there is South America. Hundreds of millions could live there and not be crowded. And Australia. That island continent has much uninhabited land.

The United States could multiply its present population by three and still not be overcrowded. There is no reason just now to indulge in worry over the prospect of an overcrowded earth.

BREAD AND WATER DIET NOT HARMFUL
There are authentic reports of numerous persons who have fasted for 30 days without harm and other records of men who have fasted for as long as 50 days without apparent harm.

The body can unquestionably maintain itself without food for a considerable length of time. The agitation concerning the bread and water diets in Nebraska indicates the general lack of understanding of what the body actually requires for its continuous existence.

In the first place bread itself varies in different communities. A bread made with white flour, yeast, malt extract, sugar, shortening and water will not have the food value of a bread made of the same constituents with the addition of the amount of milk required by modern baking standards.

Our government permits the title "milk-bread" if one-third of the liquid used in making the bread is milk. A bread made with five pounds of sweetened condensed milk per cental of flour contains about one and a half ounces of milk to a pound of bread. Bread may be made of whole wheat and other elements of roughage and of vitamin supply that are lacking in bread made from white flour.

It is possible to prepare bread with wheat germ added to such an extent as to provide 12 times the amount of wheat germ contained in whole wheat bread. These points are emphasized because they are vitally important in determining the amount of time that a person might live successfully on bread and water alone.

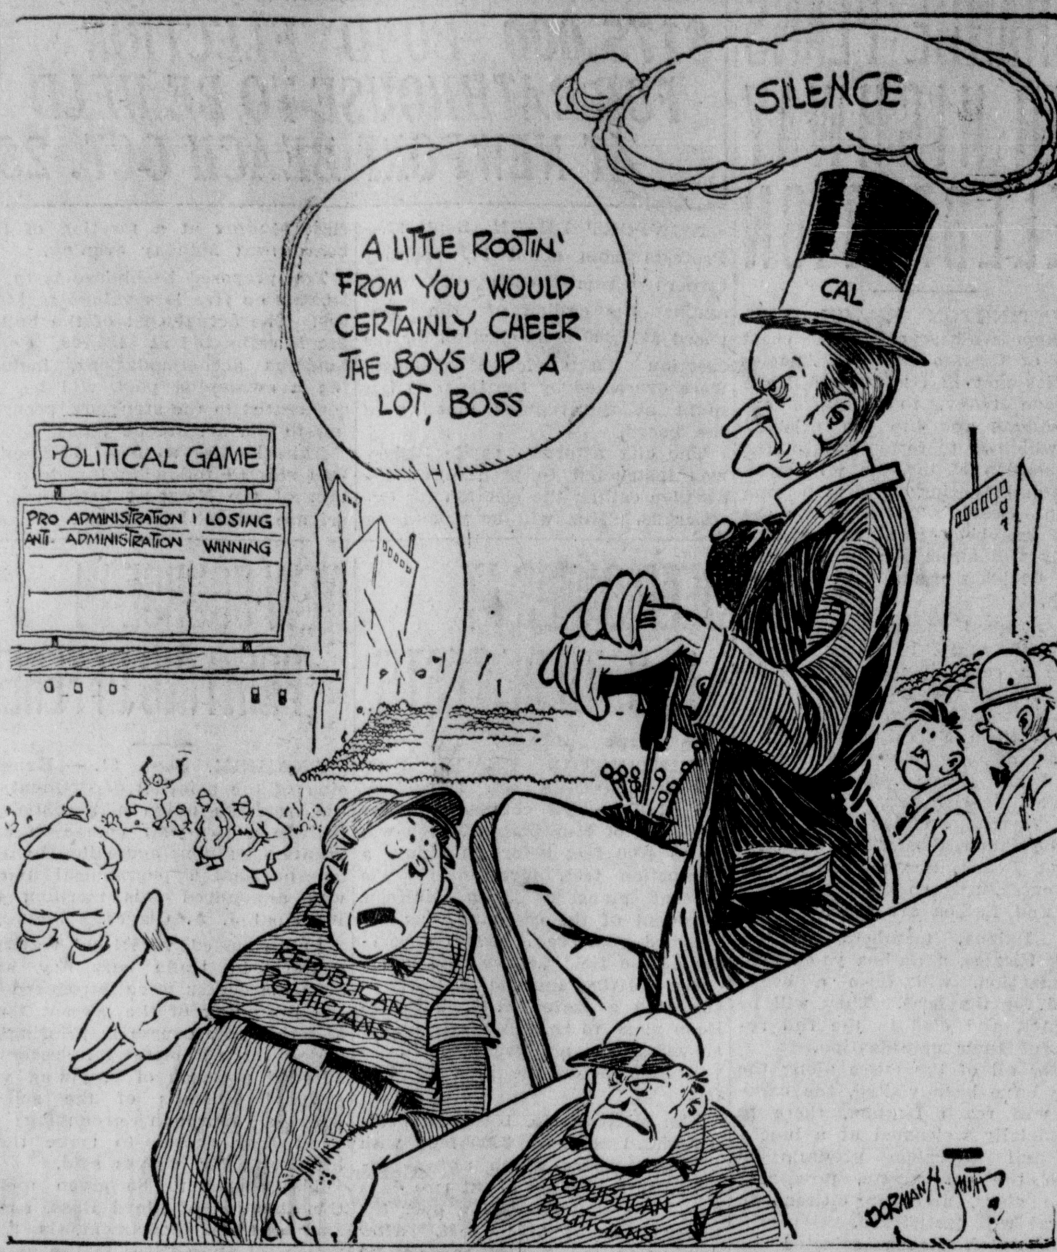

A complete diet, as has been emphasized in this column, consists of the various protein elements, mineral salts, vitamins, sugars and fats. A milk bread made according to modern standards, while not an especially complete food, is relatively complete. It lacks in the amount of calcium and to some extent in the amount of important vitamins; if a sufficient amount of milk is incorporated with the bread, it may even supply these deficiencies.

If the bread is made with nuts and raisins or with much wheat germ, these will supply other deficiencies. This point is mentioned particularly because there is no reason why a person might not live for almost an indefinite period on a sufficient amount of such bread and water.

On the other hand, modern research indicates that the absence of the various vitamins, of the mineral salts, or of the other special constituents of a complete diet may result in serious symptoms, dependent entirely on the person concerned and the amount of the deficiency. There is a real difference between complete starvation and such partial starvation as is here concerned.

Modern bread, having a scientifically established composition, is a sensible food. Unfortunately not all of the bread of the United States is up to the same standard. It would be interesting to know the kind of bread used in the Nebraska bread and water diet and to see the results of this legally controlled experiment.

"God Bless the Man Who First Invented Sleep"

Sacramento Bee

Irene Du Pont, a chemist of the great American Powder Trust, suggests that sleep may be done away with by the systematic taking of some chemical substance, and thus a race of super-men and super-women be brought into existence.

Such a race, he fancies, needing no sleep, could be working or otherwise active almost all the time.

The theory of the chemist is that sleep is a consequence of poisons which develop in the system, toxins which may be overcome or eliminated by chemical means. These poisons, he argues, not only cause sleep but also may prevent clear thinking.

So to get rid of them might result in development of greater and better thought, perhaps even of genius.

Chemistry and physiology, however, are very different sciences. A man may be a very good chemist but a very poor physiologist. And to most intelligent persons it must seem exceedingly visionary to assume that sleep ever could be banished, or that its abolition would be good for humanity. More of it, rather than less, appears to be one of the chief needs of a large proportion of the Americans of today.

"God bless the man that first invented sleep," said Sancho Panza, a sentiment still dear to the heart of the world.

WHEN THE NEW DAY DAWNS

(Contributed to The Register by Julia A. Garrison)

Oh, Soul of Mine, rest thou in peace
Let no disturbing thoughts arise;
From vain regrets and longings cease,
No more let sad tears dim mine eyes.

The end draws near; life's fitful dream
Will soon be o'er, and then, awake,
All jubilant the morn will beam
Upon the journey we shall take.

From out of darkness into light,
From pain and sorrow free at last,
And all the heartaches and the blight
Of faded hopes forever past.

The dawning day with joy will sing,
The hope-buds blossom fresh, anew;
And flowers of love in beauty spring,
Along the path we shall pursue.

Oh wondrous thought! Oh blessed day!
To rise above the things of earth,
And leave the lifeless form of clay
For beauteous form of heavenly birth.

To breathe the pure celestial air,
And quaff the living waters bright,
And in the Father's mansions share
The home where there is no more night.

Where all we've dreamed of future bliss,
And more, will greet our eager eyes,
When we behold life's morning kiss
The radiant hills of Paradise.

I was coming home from the drug store with 3 cents change and a hockey pokey man started to go past selling ice cream sandwiches for a cent, me thinking, G, I wish I had asked him if I could get a cent out of the change. And I thought, O well, she probably will, so I mite as well use it now.

Which I did, buying a ice cream sandwich and eating it so slow it was only half ate when I got home, and I held it in back of me in ma's room saying, Hay ma, how about the change?

Wat about it? ma sed.

Its only 3 cents, can I keep it? I sed.

Absolutely not, ma sed. Its high time you got out of the habit of asking for every cent of change you get your clutches on, she sed.

Well can I have 2 cents of it, 2 cents aint every cent, I sed, and ma sed, Hand it over.

Well how about jest one cent, thats only one third, I sed, and she sed, You herd me. And she held out her hand and I put the 2 cents and the rest of the ice cream sandwich, saying, I owe you a half of a ice cream sandwich ma. Meaning the other half I had ate, and ma screeched and dropped the change and the piece of ice cream sandwich on the floor, saying, O my goodness I thraut it was a snake, how dare you put a terrible horrible clammy thing like that in my hand!

Well K wizzlers, ma, it belongs to you I sed. And I started to explain but ma wouldnt listen, making me pick up the rest of the ice cream sandwich but not leaving me eat it.

Measures on the Ballot

Under this heading, The Register presents information and arguments concerning various measures that are to be voted upon in the November elections. Views expressed here may or may not be the views of The Register.

(From Official Journal of the Commonwealth Club of California.)

Proposition No. 3—Oleomargarine

This comes on the ballot by referendum. It is Assembly Bill 373 (Chapter 329, Statutes of 1925). It forbids the sale of "oleomargarine colored in imitation or semblance of butter;" restricts or forbids the sale of food imitating any dairy product; forbids the manufacture, sale or advertising of oleomargarine under any name suggestive of a dairy product; requires eating places that use oleomargarine to proclaim the fact by conspicuous signs; requires license to be paid by dealers and levies a tax of two cents a pound on all oleomargarine sold inside the state. The intent of the bill is obvious. The purpose of the referendum is to prevent it from becoming a law.

Proposition No. 6—Racing

This is an initiative measure providing for the creation of the California Racing Board to regulate horse racing and to permit betting on horse races. It requires that gambling on horse races shall be confined to race tracks and that all profits above nine per cent on capital cost shall be shared by the state.

The racing board is to consist of three members, one paid $4000 and two paid $3000 per year. They will license race tracks at $500 a day and supervise their operation. Betting is to be confined to the "Parimutuel" system. The proceeds of licenses and the profits from betting are to be divided between the Veterans' Welfare board and the State Board of Agriculture.

The purpose of the measure is to permit gambling on horse races, now forbidden by law.

Proposition No. 11—Repeal of "Wright Act"

The Wright act was passed by the legislature of 1921 and held up by referendum until the election of November, 1922. At that election it was adopted—Yes 445,076; No, 411,133.

The act by its terms "recognizes the requirements of the 18th amendment to the constitution of the United States" and declares "the penal provisions of the Volstead Act are hereby adopted as the law of the state."

It clothes the state courts and officials with power to enforce the federal law against traffic in intoxicating liquors, and prescribes that fines and forfeitures on local ordinances shall be paid into the local treasury.

The act is again brought before the voters by an initiative petition for its repeal. Those who are not in favor of the enforcement of this law will vote for the repeal.

Those who believe in the enforcement of this law will vote against the repeal.

Proposition No. 14—Corporations.

A. C. A. No. 14 amends the provisions of the law relating to stock of bonded indebtedness by requiring the consent of two thirds of the stock where the present law requires only "the consent of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock."

A further purpose is to abolish the requirement that such changes in stock and bond issues may be made only at a meeting called for that purpose, giving 60 days public notice. The first change is made for the purpose of giving additional protection to minority stockholders. The omission is for the purpose of avoiding the long delays now required.

Proposition No. 18—Water

Water and Power

The Water and Power act presented to the voters this year is substantially identical with the act submitted to the voters in 1922 and 1924. The chief change in the text advances the date of expiration of the term of the first member of the California Water and Power board from Jan. 1, 1926, to March 1, 1928, and makes corresponding changes in other dates.

The act establishes a board of five to distribute water and electrical energy and acquire all the rights and properties necessary to its production and transmission. The board is to be named by the governor for a four year term and is to consist of a full time member at $15,000 a year and four members to be paid $20 a day when on duty. They are removable only by two-thirds vote of the legislature or by a recall vote of the state's electorate.

Bonds to the amount of $500,000 are authorized to be sold on order of the governor, treasurer and chairman of the water board; interest not to exceed six per cent. The money may be used to purchase land, water rights, etc., and to build or acquire properties for the purposes specified.

The board is authorized to supply water and electric energy to the state, its political subdivisions and other users, at such rates as in its judgment will pay current costs and retire the bonds in fifty years. It is further empowered to acquire or construct works for political subdivisions for supplying water and electrical energy—the cost to be returned to the state in 25 years.

To carry out these purposes, the board is given wide powers in spending money and is allowed to fix compensation, make its own rules for employing and dismissing subordinates.

California Politics

WHY SHORTRIDGE WON

San Bernardino Sun.—The east, in fact the entire nation, had its eyes on the California senatorial primary of the final day of August. It develops that the eastern press is studying. Most papers commented on the result in California and, because it is sometimes difficult to view a political battle from afar, there is a great variety of opinion as to what the California primary did.

On another part of this editorial page there is a review of the opinions expressed by a considerable number of papers in other states. There is no particular agreement as to what did happen in California. In fact there is a marked conflict in opinion.

It is quite natural that some leading eastern newspapers should regard the world court as a paramount issue in the campaign in California, for both Senator Hiram Johnson and the Hearst newspapers sought to make this the main issue. As most close political observers in California will agree, however, the world court was not the paramount issue. It cannot be properly said that because Senator Shortridge won the republican nomination California Republicans sustained participation by the United States in the world court. Even had the world court been the issue it should be remembered the combined vote for Clarke and Lineberger slightly exceeded the vote for Shortridge.

Mr. Shortridge won the nomination because of two factors in the minds of Republican voters. Those who desired to endorse the administration of President Coolidge voted for Mr. Shortridge. Those who desired to retain in the senate a California Senator who holds the important place on "the finance committee that frames tariff legislation" voted for Mr. Shortridge.

The world court and Hiram Johnson were minor issues. Mr. Shortridge secured the votes of a considerable number of Republicans because Senator Johnson was opposing his colleague. These are the Republicans who do not like Senator Johnson. Senator Shortridge lost the votes of a considerable number of Republicans who follow the lead of Senator Johnson. But after all these incidents were merely sideglances.

Those who say that Senator Shortridge's victory was a victory for the world court are not keen students of the California mind. There are vast numbers of Republicans who oppose the world court and they did it simply because they regard the world court issue of lesser importance than such a matter as the tariff. There was a period during the campaign in San Bernardino county when outside observers said they found much Clarke sentiment, but when the real Shortridge campaign opened it opened with the appeal to keep a Californian on the tariff-making committee, and nothing could stop the rush from Clarke to Shortridge.

The result was that Shortridge carried this county with more than 1000 votes over the combined votes of his two opponents—a very impressive victory. Yet no one would be rash enough to declare the San Bernardino county Republicans are overwhelmingly in favor of the world court. We believe they are overwhelmingly opposed to the world court, but were not angry with Senator Shortridge for his vote, for San Bernardino county Republicans are extremely practical. They appreciated that Senator Shortridge should support the Coolidge administration, for the Coolidge administration has supported Mr. Shortridge in his appeal for those things which California must have to prosper. We are more concerned with California than with the world court. Senator Shortridge brought home results for California; therefore practical Californians are for Mr.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

George B. Dealey, publisher of the Dallas (Texas) News, says: "That advertising may be used to help stabilize business conditions and to build public confidence in conditions as they exist."

Financiers everywhere agree that "booms" and "slumps" are largely states of mind. The Dallas News, through its property zone advertising, has established the Dallas area as a good place for business expansion and enterprises everywhere have been benefited by the information given out. To say that the territory itself has been benefited at the same time is, of course, unnecessary.

People like to retard the things they themselves think. If business is good it is a valuable thing to have somebody advertise that fact.

So long as the newspaper is the voice of the people, the newspaper will be a first-class agent for this job.
